RATE HEARINGS ARE COMPLETED

ADJOURNMENT TAKEN UNTIL DECEMBER 10 TO ALLOW ANALYSIS.

MANY STATISTICS PRODUCED

Months Have Been Spent in Preparation—Roads' Business Increase, But Decrease from Operations.

Washington, Nov. 25.—Preliminary hearings before the Interstate Commerce commission on the application of the railroads in eastern "classification territory" for an advance of 5 per cent in all freight rates were concluded late today.

An adjournment was taken until Wednesday, December 10, in order to afford the commission and opposing counsel time to analyze the mass of statements, testimony and statistics submitted by attorneys for the roads.

The evidence submitted today was designed to demonstrate in concrete and analytical form the increased necessity for the proposed increase in freight rates. Accounting experts, statisticians, rate makers and experienced traffic officers submitted to the commission a wilderness of tables, showing the financial operations of the eastern roads, separately and combined. Many months have been spent in their preparation. They are to be made the basis of the testimony subsequently to be offered in support of the proposed increase.

The figures offered today tended to prove that while the roads generally are enjoying an increased business the returns from operations continuously are decreasing until, as Vice President W. C. Maxwell of the Western Union telegraph company, said:

"The situation is becoming daily more serious. We are suffering from slow starvation."

Margin of Profit Narrowing.

It was stated that the demands of the traveling and the shipping public for improvement and extension of railroad facilities could be met by the roads only as they were enabled to obtain more money. The margin of profit, it was asserted, was so constantly narrowing that it was becoming increasingly difficult to obtain the necessary additional capital with which adequately to maintain, equip and operate the roads.

Elaborate explanations were made of the methods pursued in making the 5 per cent increase, which substantially, it was developed, applies to all traffic except eastbound anthracite coal. On anthracite no increase was made because of the pending investigation by the Interstate Commerce commission and the department of justice.

W. C. Maxwell of St. Louis, general traffic manager of the Western Union telegraph company, and J. L. Minnie, general counsel, questioned him on tabulated figures relating to the increase in cost of operation during the last three years and the relatively small increases in net income.

Dr. Frank H. Dixon, professor at Dartmouth college and statistician for the bureau of railway economics, called to explain tables submitted yesterday relating to the operation of the railroads in the territory to be immediately affected by the 5 per cent increase. Professor Dixon directed preparation of the tables.

Mr. Maxwell testified particularly as to results of operations and financial condition of the roads in the Pittsburgh and Buffalo in the central freight association territory, his data relating to thirty-eight railroads with 5,337 miles of line.

All those roads, he said, while showing in 1912 an increase in operating revenues of $13,000,000 more than for 1910, suffered a loss of $12,000,000 in operating income.

"This result," said Mr. Maxwell, "was due to an increase in the rate of operating expenses and taxes as between 1910 and 1912, from 71 per cent to 74.2 per cent. This showing was made despite the fact that large sums of new capital were invested in additions and betterments."

He said the loss in net revenues for the year ended June 30, 1913, as compared with 1910, the figures for these same 38 roads for the three months of July, August and September, 1913, show a decrease in net operating earnings of $6,337,233 or approximately 20 per cent.

Call Attention to His Roads. Mr. Maxwell directed special attention to the contention of a special group of roads which he claimed were particularly representative of the whole situation in Central Freight association territory.

That group embraces 24 roads with 23,147 miles of line, or 43.5 per cent of the entire mileage in the territory and including such lines as the Big Four system, Vandalia, Chicago and Eastern Illinois, Grand Trunk Western, Grand Rapids, Illinois Central, Chicago and Alton and Western Union.

Mr. Maxwell asserted, "earned $13,000,000 more than in 1910, which is known as the panic year, and operating expenses and taxes were $12,000,000 more. Net earnings after paying expenses and taxes were only $1,000,000 more than in 1910. The net incorporate income of these properties was actually $3,000,000 less than in 1910, although during this five year period $18,000,000 new capital was put into these properties."

In 1913, according to Mr. Maxwell's figures the roads in this group earned $18,000,000 more than in 1910, operating expenses and taxes were $14,000,000 more than in 1910 and the net after operating expenses decreased $3,000,000, while the corporate income decreased almost $17,000,000.

Interrogated by Chairman Clark as to the decrease of income and increase of expenses of the roads Mr. Maxwell said:

"The fact is that the margin between what we are taking in and what we are paying out is steadily but surely growing narrower."

"This has been true for several years and the situation is becoming daily more serious. We are suffering from slow starvation."

Mr. Maxwell had explained the necessity confronting the roads of obtaining new capital for the improvement of their facilities.

AMAZING STORIES ARE BEING HEARD

Here is One Wherein New Earth Fluid Drives Cancer From Despairing Man.

Astonishing reports of the curative force of Vitalitas are constantly being heard. Among the most marvelous of these are its cures of cancer. Is it a cure for the world-spreading cancer that is rivaling consumption in its destructiveness? No scientist and no other man can yet answer.

It is known that Vitalitas has cured some cases of the dreaded scourge. Reports of them are on file. Here is another instance just brought to notice. Mr. J. H. Bowles of 232 Victoria street, San Antonio, says:

"I have been treated by a specialist for cancer on my face just below one eye. I spent a great deal of money and the growth got no better. I was in despair. Then I got a jar of Vitalitas Salve and began applying it. Also took the Liquid Vitalitas internally. Every trace of the cancerous growth has been driven away and I am hopeful it will never again appear."

Vitalitas is taken out of the earth. It is the greatest curative force known to man. It vitalizes all weakened and diseased tissues, and forces from the body such ailments as indigestion, constipation, catarrh, all ills of kidneys, liver and blood. Eczema, old sores, tetter, etc., are quickly cured.

ment and extension of the lines to meet demands of the public. Commissioner Clements inquired about the sources of the new capital but the information was not immediately available. Mr. Maxwell promised, however, to furnish later details concerning the roads' financial transactions.

C. C. McCain, chairman of the trunk line association, who had supervision of the preparation of the proposed advanced tariffs, explained in detail the methods employed in figuring the advances.

Mr. McCain said all differentials between cities and between established differential routes had been preserved.

Chairman E. Morris of the central freight association, submitted to the commission an elaborate statement of the changes in the rate structure of the proposed advance. He proposed the statement in detail, following closely the lines pursued by Mr. McCain.

R. H. Large, general freight agent of the Pennsylvania railroad, explained that that system in preparing the advance tariffs, had preserved carefully the present rate relationship, both regional and destination.

Assuming that you profit on the transportation of coal is 10, or 15, or 100 per cent," inquired counsel for the Pittsburgh Coal company, "would you favor the addition of the proposed 5 per cent?"

Mr. Large replied Mr. Large, "because the returns on the traffic now are insufficient to meet our absolute needs. No such profit, however, is being made."

Dixon Reviews Figures. Dr. Dixon, who directed the preparation of statistics submitted yesterday for the railroads, reviewed these figures today in detail. He also stated that the total operating revenues for the respondent systems were greater by $1,000,000 in 1912 than in 1910, that operating expenses, taxes and net revenues from outside operations were greater by about $184,500,000, so that operating income showed a decrease approximating $12,000,000 despite the fact that there was an increase of $180,000,000 in property investment.

Railway net return for 1910, he said, represented 5.7 per cent on capital, while 1914 manufacturing concerns in the United States showed a corresponding return of 11.8 per cent and the net return for all manufacturing industries in the country was 12 per cent.

Aggregate compensation to railroad employees, excluding officers in the group affected, increased according to Dr. Dixon from $24,000,000 in 1910 to $47,000,000 in 1912 or 54 per cent. The amount of increase between 1910 and 1912 was $23,000,000 and the rate of increase 11 per cent while the annual average for the entire group was $1,000 per year, the average wage of a fireman $400 per year, the average wage of a conductor $1451 and the average wage of a trainman $1016 a year.

At the present time the average wage of engineers, passenger or freight is $1,000 per year, the average wage of a fireman $400 per year, the average wage of a conductor $1451 and the average wage of a trainman $1016 a year.

Annual Roll Call Convention Observed and Plans for Building Permanent Home Discussed.

Marlin, Nov. 25.—The last convention in November in every subordinate lodge of the Knights of Pythias is set apart as roll call convention and it is the duty of the officers and members to observe this custom.

Within the last few years Loyal Lodge No. 14 has not observed these days, but a determination has been made to observe them in future, therefore tonight the members of Loyal Lodge No. 14 met at Cattle hall in their annual roll call convention.

In addition to the roll call ceremonies other important work came before the lodge. The local lodge is making a determined effort to buy a lot for the erection of a permanent home. This will be done as soon as a decision is reached with reference to location.

John T. Bonner of Tyler, past grand chancellor, is here and will address the lodge membership tonight. Members are urged to attend.

Discover Military Espionage. Geneva, Nov. 25.—The Swiss authorities, after a lengthy investigation number of governments, have discovered an extensive and cleverly organized international military espionage bureau here. The bureau, it is alleged, was conducted by a French ex-army captain named Lagard and today he was ordered expelled from Switzerland.

The expulsion order places Lagard in an extraordinary dilemma, as it is asserted the moment he crosses any of the four frontiers—French, German, Austrian or Italian—he will be placed under arrest.

FIGHT ON COLD STORAGE DEALERS

MANY COMMUNICATIONS TO ATTORNEY GENERAL ASKING FOR HEARINGS.

IS MADE TO LOWER PRICES

Department Would Drop Fight If Assured They Would Be Reduced.

Washington, Nov. 25.—The double barreled attack upon the cold storage dealers of the country by the department of justice and congress brought many letters and telegrams to Attorney General McKeen's office today, urgently requesting that the dealers be granted a hearing before the department takes the matter into the courts.

The department's inquiry started Saturday and has progressed only far enough for the agents to learn something of the task before them. Pleas of the dealers that the information furnished from prosecuting the inquiry with vigor, but cold storage men who came to Washington with facts to present that concern their business and their relations to other dealers will not be turned away.

The attorney general is not so anxious to prosecute the dealers as he is to bring down the price of eggs and other produce in which the cold storage men deal. If this can be accomplished through adjustment with the dealers, such a course may be adopted provided any combination found to exist is broken up voluntarily and provided no criminality is disclosed.

Pending any offers in person from the cold storage men, the department has set its best agents on the trail of high produce prices and the attorney general is waiting eagerly for their reports.

The fact that there are many cold storage houses throughout the country makes the investigation one of large proportions, but the agents will look into every phase that is presented to them or suggested to the department where there is any ground for belief that the dealers are operating illegally.

Some of the department officials admit that there has been little reduction in the cost of living since the tariff bill became law and their aim is to discover who is responsible.

Mr. McKeen's clearly indicated his purpose to get after the middle men in the bill recently filed in New York against the association of wholesale and manufacturing jewelers.

The brief against the jewellers, however, was not the opening gun of the department's campaign against middle men who resort to combinations to keep retailers from buying directly, according to officials of the department.

Words of Praise For May's Wonderful Stomach Remedy

"How thankful we are to you for getting a hold of your wonderful Remedy. My wife could not have had but a short time to live if she had not taken your Wonderful Remedy when she did. One more of those paroxysms of pain she was having would have killed her without a doubt. Now she is free from all pain."

Now she is able to eat anything she wants and her appetite is good and before taking your medicine she had no appetite and when she ate anything she would suffer death for so doing and could not sleep at night; since taking your treatment she sleeps well all night long. T. A. NEALL, Roanoke, Va.

The above letter should convince you more than anything we could say in behalf of May's Wonderful Stomach Remedy. Sufferers would try one dose of this Remedy—one dose should convince them that they can be restored to health. Nearly all Stomach Ailments are caused by the clogging of the intestinal tract with mucus and catarrhal secretions, allowing poisonous fluids into the stomach and otherwise deranging the digestive system. May's Wonderful Stomach Remedy positively removes these secretions without a surgical operation and puts an end to Colic Attacks, Gas in the Stomach and Intestines and all of the usual symptoms of Stomach, Liver and Intestinal Ailments. MERRY MATRONS TO MEET
WEDNESDAY OF NEXT WEEK
Owing to the close proximity of Thanksgiving, the members of the Merry Matrons decided to postpone their resumption from Cotton Palace adjournment until Wednesday, December the third. The hostess will be Mrs. John Dockery.

SAINT PAUL'S GUILD
NOTES CHANGE OF HOUR
The members of Saint Paul's Guild will note the change of hour for meeting. This afternoon at three o'clock the Guild meets at the parish building. It is especially desired that all members of the guild be present at the coming bazaar; and this, with materials for furthering their work.

GURLEY MOTHERS' CLUB TO ENTERTAIN TODAY
Today, out at the Gurley school, the children after two o'clock will present a Thanksgiving program. This enjoyed, the Mothers' club will be hostesses in social session. They insist that every mother who has a child in the Gurley school make it convenient to be present. This will encourage both the little folks and the Mothers' club.

FRANK SMITH A GROOM
FORMER WACO RESIDENT
The brother, Frank Smith, and many friends of his boyhood days are interested in the news that Frank Smith has now a bride. He was married in Dallas to Miss Laura Hains, a Dallas girl, who is heralded as unusually attractive. The ceremony was quite privately celebrated. Mr. and Mrs. Smith continue residence in Dallas.

THE HOTEL BANQUET
FINDS WOMEN INTERESTED
Present any matter for public congratulation, and there you will find the many public spirited women of this city interested. This applies to the banquet which the city of Waco will tender the Honorable J. W. Higgins on Tuesday evening. The women are included, and many will have plates. Thus they will show their appreciation to the honoree for what he has made possible for this city, a ten-story, modern hotel.

THURSDAY HOMECOMING FOR REBECCA SPARKS HOME
Beginning with last season, Miss Ethel Jackson inaugurated what promises to be an annual observance at the Rebecca Sparks Home. This is to gather for Thanksgiving dinner every girl who has once called this home. Some are married and still reside in the city. Some have gone elsewhere and return. The homecoming takes the form of an all day with Miss Jackson and the girls, a bountiful Thanksgiving dinner, and a general good time. Preparation is being made for forty this season.

CIRCLE NUMBER TEN
HAS INTERESTING HOUR
Thirty-one young married women of the First Baptist church are known as Circle Number Ten. These meet every Monday afternoon in the home of a member for Bible study and the promotion of good fellowship. The last meeting came with Mrs. George McGhee and found Mrs. Womble a guest. Miss Tenie Seale is the regular leader for the study period. Mrs. McGhee served light refreshments. The attendance was larger than usual.

TWO FORMER WACO GIRLS ARE NOW AUTUMN BRIDES
Friends here have received cards which tell of two weddings where the brides are former Waco girls. In one, Mrs. and Mr. J. C. Lees, now of Cleburne, have invited friends here to the marriage of their daughter, Miss Janie Lees. The groom-to-be, Elbert M. Cyrus, is a resident of Cleburne. The wedding date is December the fourth.
The other interesting event has transpired in Austin. In this, the bride, now Mrs. J. L. Hanchey, was Miss Nell Whaling, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Hanchey, formerly of the Fifth street Methodist parsonage here. This wedding was an event of social note. Mr. and Mrs. Hanchey continue residence in Austin.

MISS ANNE RISHER HOSTESS
FOR MISS ERMINE HALBERT
The first of the card parties of this week found the old congenial set of girls known as the Mad Caps now young women, together for a last afternoon with Miss Ermine Halbert, the bride of tonight. In selecting players for her four tables at bridge, Miss Risher, as hostess added to the Mad Caps only a few substitutes. She provided bride scores and markers in compliment to this social courtesy. Her cousin, and her refreshments gave yet another suggestion of the event which was celebrated. The game found Miss Jennie Thornton of Dallas with the head prize and Miss Helen Ball of Paris, second with the consolation. For Miss Halbert there was a daintily done bride package containing a full set of embroidered guest towels. It was, after the game, a good-bye to a merry Mad Cap, a girl of today and the wife of tomorrow.

WILLARD WIGLEY HOST
AT HUACO DINNER PARTY
In compliment to his guest, Mr. Chittenden, from Saint Louis, and in more general compliment to twenty-four of his friends, Willard Wigley was host at a beautiful dinner party during Monday evening. Not only does the word beautiful apply, but that of merry may be added, for after the more formal company in the dinner room, it was adjournment to the ball room for a merry dance to the tune of the darky fiddlers. It goes to Mr. Wigley's credit that he is the first to suggest the Christmas colors, the crimson and green. The holy shade came in use of natural carnations, while the green was wrought from the graceful asparagus plumosa. The center of the table was treated into a carol, the Christmas, the green continuing from the foliage in maline bands, each of which reached a graceful bow at one of the corners. The Christmas candles were there, too, and so was a jolly good time. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Carroll were the chaperones. During the dance punch was served. This was a formal occasion in Mr. Wigley's courtesy to his guest, but quite informal in the general good time among the guests.

WOMEN ARE INTERESTED IN CHARITY CONFERENCE
Beginning with Sunday, a three days' session of charity and correction workers in Texas will hold. Governor Colquitt has appointed a large number of prominent men and women from this city, several of whom will attend. A number of prominent women of the state are the program. The subjects will bear more upon the child labor, the delinquent child and the institutions for training delinquent children, these all come under special discussion. Also, the play of the state and his recreation will be discussed. Waco women will be especially interested in the report of Mrs. E. W. Bounds of Marlin, a member of the board of directors for the Boys' Industrial training school at Gatesville. Since the Morning News agitated the reforms needed at Gatesville, and exposed existing conditions, the women here have been very much concerned; hence, a personal interest in what Mrs. Bounds has to say. The program is also positively going. It is to be deplored if more do not attend, since the conference deals with subjects vital to the children, the mothers, the unfortunate, and the health of this community.

THE THANKSGIVING TEA
A SUCCESS FOR THE HOME
In spite of lowering clouds during its progress and the steady downpour in advance, the annual Thanksgiving tea at the Home was an unbounded success. Many more attended than the women who promoted the penitentiary conditions. This will have detailed attention.

In all over 500 delegates have been appointed. From the women of this city, only Mrs. Edward Rotan is reported to have been unable to attend. The conference deals with subjects vital to the children, the mothers, the unfortunate, and the health of this community.

Many more attended than the women who promoted the penitentiary conditions. This will have detailed attention. Quite a number of packages were left, while donations of provisions were also received. This, as said, is the one day of all the year when the women of the association over the Home, show what their work is, and receive all who are interested. For this afternoon, Reverend C. T. Caldwell called and remained sufficiently long to have all enjoy some of his best songs. Mrs. Berta Mackey Brooks also contributed music, the same with Miss Gertrude Bush. None enjoyed their selections more than did the old women who are inmates of the Home. Mrs. Edward Rotan, as president, gave welcome. Mrs. Marie Holway held the coin basket. Tea was poured by Mrs. Ben Gray Kendall and coffee by Mrs. S. Archenhold. Quite a number of prominent women had been invited to remain during a portion of the receiving hours. Several paid their respects. Mrs. Holway reports ninety-six dollars received during the tea, and more voluntarily to be sent from those who could not present their checks and coins in person. It is confidently expected that this annual tea will bring to the Home a Thanksgiving offering of considerably more than one hundred dollars.

Hanchey, formerly of the Fifth street Methodist parsonage here. This wedding was an event of social note. Mr. and Mrs. Hanchey continue residence in Austin.

SHAKSPERE CLUB ENJOYS
The Monday session of the Shakespeare club was a notable one. The dull day made admirable time for the passage of fifty beautiful pictures across the screen. These were the review of Rome as it is today, Rome of ancient times, and Rome of the future, and modern Rome. This was in anticipation of the club's beginning Julius Caesar, on next Monday. Furthermore, it was fortunate that Paversham with Julius Caesar should come just when the club was passing the picture of the city where the scenes of the play are laid, and with the gestures and speaking characters for the

Your Kidneys Are to Blame

Thousands of men and women are unwell as the result of the kidneys failing to filter the blood properly. The dangerous feature of kidney disease consists in its subtle and insidious character, and so insidious are its ravages that many victims do not suspect its existence until the advanced stages have been reached. This is not strange when we consider that the complicated and delicate structure of the kidneys is poorly supplied with nerves. As the function of the kidneys is to remove impurities, they are very susceptible to disease, and any disorder affecting them is dangerous, as it causes impure matter to be retained in the blood and affects the whole system. The function of the kidneys and liver to health and activity. Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy enables these organs to properly perform their functions and free the blood from urinary and biliary poisons. The experience of thirty years has demonstrated the fact that it acts specifically upon the kidneys and liver in such a manner that it establishes a healthy condition of these vital organs and it has therefore become a standard remedy for kidney and liver diseases. It is sold by all druggists, or we will send you a free sample if you address Warner's Safe Remedies Co., Dept. 398 Rochester, N. Y.

parts, the club feels that it enters into the study with exceptional realism. Miss Friend was spokesman for the pictures as she toured the city. The large number of members present were rapt. Some enjoyed because they are recent visitors to Rome, some enjoyed because they have always been interested in this wonderful city. Some were enthralled by the Biblical and religious associations. All enjoyed because they realized what the views would mean to their study. They saw the spot where the mighty Caesar was assassinated. They saw the spot where Mark Anthony made his marvelous oration which swayed the multitude. They saw the building where the senate met, and were told of the statue of which the body of Julius Caesar lay. The tomb of Caesar was pointed out. Within the club who had visited these spots were Miss Friend, with the Misses Josephine Rose, Zoe Fitzhugh and Honor Weisfe, the Mesdames Mary Stanton, N. E. Boggers, J. D. Mayfield, Miss Annie Forsgard, also Mrs. Mangold of Dallas, were guests of the afternoon. Miss Decca Lamar West was welcomed from the summer absence, also the Mesdames Charles Ivy, E. H. Wilcox, and J. R. Walker were found in their former place. Almost every member of the club attended the Paversham performance of Julius Caesar. The Shakespeare club now has its limit of membership, fifty. Also, there is a waiting list of six applicants.

MRS. JONES POURS TEA FOR HUNDRED GUESTS

In making her invitation list for her pretty little tea on Monday evening, Mrs. W. H. Jones selected only the girls from among her friends, together with the younger married coterie. These were sufficient to assemble one hundred to meet the honored guests, the Mesdames Mable Chambers of Houston, Lucie Bruton of Comanche, both of whom are making an extended stay in this city. The details wrought into this attractive and always hospitable home were strictly in keeping with the afternoon tea. While the hostess was engaged with presenting her guests of honor, together with Mrs. W. S. Wall of Houston, a member of her household, little Katherine Padgett was receiving the cards of the callers. Mrs. Clinton Padgett was at the table. Miss Hester Foster was speeding the parting guest, while about the rooms to remain during the two hours were the Mesdames George Rotan, Hattie Trice Beers of New York, Harry Spanell, H. C. Wingo and Forest Gordon. In arranging the floral effect for her room, Mrs. Jones introduced the Janus bouquets and baskets. Janus, we all know, was the traditional gentleman of the long, long ago. He had two faces, one looking toward the gate which he guarded and the other from it. The first of this pleasing effect with Mrs. Jones was seen in an oblong basket set upon the library table. The glow of the golden chrysanthemum, enriched by autumn foliage, showed on the one side, while the other gave the spriglike blush of the pink rose. This rose was repeated in the tea table touches, while the library was aglow with the autumn treatment. Mrs. Jones had more than a score of honored guests in the Messer Bruton and Chambers. She herself was cordial in welcome, and her tea for these few from her many friends made a notable opening to the Thanksgiving week.

MRS. NEBLETT HAS DINNER
FOR MR. NEBLETT'S FRIENDS.

Not because it was a birthday, nor an anniversary, but just so that he could have a few friends to break bread with him, there was a delightful dinner last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Neblett on Washington street, with Mr. Neblett as the host and Mrs. Neblett superintending the preparations and the service, and not even peaking in once to see whether the men folks picked up the right piece of silver at the right time, or whether they followed social custom in appearing the olives as they were served.

Given a good wife and a capable homemaker, whose ideas of cookery are along the lines of the latest culinary recipes, and a desire to arrange that her husband may have a few of his men friends for a social evening, a fellow can have an awful good time as an entertainer and those who are entertained can enjoy it. There were fourteen covers, with Mr. Neblett presiding, sitting about the board being Mayor James H. Mackey, District Judge J. L. McCullough, Mr. J. W. Hale, Dr. J. R. Ferrell, Howell McCullough, J. R. Milam, A. C. Patton, George Zinzina, James Hayes Quarles, E. B. Baker, J. P. Powers, O. L. Strubling, and H. C. Fisher.

The social formality in the service, but the quips and jokes and conversation about the table were of an informal character, and then became reminiscent, with Mayor Mackey and Mr. Ferrell recounting the roles of old times, and Mr. Neblett could remember back a quarter of a century and now and then he would "fill in" a few facts, and those who were late comers to Waco listened with interest to many of the stories which were told. After dining the guests enjoyed music, and more reminiscent stories of the early Waco. While it was a delightful affair, and proved that men can enjoy an evening together with all the dear charms away, yet there was the feminine touch in the flowers and ribbons which were used in the decorations; there was the artistic arrangement of the table, and the very atmosphere was rich in the fragrance of women's presence and woman's handiwork.

AGAIN ALL BIDS ARE REJECTED

Proposals for Storm Sewer Contract Too High—Foster Quotes a Lower Figure, $10,000.

For the second time the city commission has rejected all bids submitted by contractors for the construction of storm sewer laterals to drain the storm water from the business district into Mary street storm sewer. On recommendation of Commissioner J. W. Foster the commission yesterday refused all bids and instructed Mr. Foster to do the work by force account or make a preliminary estimate for its construction at the lowest figure possible. Bids were first presented two weeks ago for this work. These were rejected, the commission believing them too high. A week ago other bids were submitted. Yesterday these were also rejected. The lowest bid was $10,850.

Foster Has Lower Price.
Mr. Foster said the city engineer had informed him the work could be done for $10,000. Commissioner Cawfield objected to the city doing the work, but voted for Mr. Foster's recommendation that it be let at private contract or by force account, the commission to approve the contract.

Commissioner Littlefield also voted to this effect, although he opposes the construction of underground laterals all the way to the Mary street sewer. Because of present manner of flushing the streets Mr. Littlefield believes the laterals should be run only from Austin and Franklin and Washington and Franklin and the water carried on top of ground to the main sewer.

JURY FOR WITTY'S TRIAL COMPLETE

TWELVE GOOD MEN AND TRUE TO BE SWORN IN TODAY.

INSANITY PLEA IS REPUDIATED

Judge Munroe Compels Showdown, Refusing to Proceed Until Mental Condition is Established.

After an all-day session, the jury in the J. B. Witty murder trial was empaneled last night in the Fifty-fourth district court. Witty is on trial the second time for the murder of Luta Ozment.

The first development of the case to indicate the procedure of the defense came immediately after the empanelling of the jury, when Lud Williams and Edgar Harold, the defendant's lawyers, waived all contention that client is at present of unsound mind. Judge Munroe demanded of the defense what stand would be taken on this question, stating that the judgment in which the former sentence was reversed required a trial for lunacy before a trial for murder in case the question of sanity were raised.

Precautionary Measure.
Judge Munroe declared his intention of settling the fact of Witty's sanity before proceeding any further, that there might be no chance of a reversal later on. Witty's lawyers admitted that their client is now sound enough in mind to stand a fair trial.

Consideration for Jury.
The jury was not sworn in last night, Judge Munroe granting them the privilege of returning to their homes for the night, which is allowable in a case of second degree murder. The court will convene this morning at 9 o'clock, when the jury will be sworn in and the indictment read.

The list of the jury is as follows: S. B. Carlson of Waco, A. B. Stanford of Lorena, A. A. Chandler of Speegleville, J. T. Parris of West, A. L. Alexander of West, Sam Brown of West, Sam Farris of West, J. L. Green of McGregor, A. M. Withrow of McGregor, C. D. Connolly of McGregor, F. C. Stalworth of McGregor, R. England of McGregor.

WACO RETURNS FORT WORTH'S VISIT.

There is nothing that makes and sustains intercommunity friendship as surely and as happily as neighborly support of a city's public events. Waco asks for and needs the co-operation and patronage of cities in this region in the giving of its Cotton Palace annually, that the exposition may have the fullest measure of success. Dallas depends on her sister cities, in fact on all the State, for the splendid success of the State Fair each year. Houston is eager for general interest in and attendance on the No-Ten-Oh carnival; Fort Worth is in like case with respect to her Fat Stock shows and other big events, so is San Antonio with her Fiesta San Jacinto, so is Beaumont with the Southeast Texas fair, so are other Texas cities that are favored as places for holding fairs and carnivals of the counties and districts.

Fifteen days ago Fort Worth sent a big, live, lively company of business men to the Cotton Palace; the visit of these ardent workers for the commercial advancement of the Panther City was pleasant and memorable. They were some 250 enthusiastic representatives of a neighbor city's many interests; they liked and praised Waco's big exposition, but at the same time they left nothing undone in celebration of their home community and the National Feeders and Breeders show, to which they invited this city.

There is and there should be a spirit of hearty reciprocity, pride of State and friendship of all Texas cities each for the other, in this business. Much is to be gained, commonly, by such an exchange and interchange of visits and unselfish giving of commendation for each city's celebrations. Waco today should respond to the coming of Fort Worth's delegation in a manner even more notable than was the manner of that visit to the Palace. The local exposition is past; Waco and its business organizations are settling down to the winter's work of promoting the city's interests. The visit to the Fat Stock show is a worthwhile stroke in this direction, as well as a pleasant recreation and the due of Fort Worth in recognition of her friendship showed the event here. Surely several hundred Wacoans can well afford the time for this day off and they can do much for their city, as well as for the success of this expression of friendship, by joining the company that will go to Fort Worth.

That Residence Detail.
Two distinguished Texans are seeking appointment to the Interstate Commerce Commission.—Houston Post.

The Hon. Allison ("Chief") Mayfield, chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission, has for years lived in Austin and voted in Sherman. To all intents, his home is really the home of House. He knows House, we think—and feel impelled to whisper; he is the close friend of Mr. Culberson. Austin's Wilson regime powers who be are his familiar acquaintances. In point of residence, at least, Mr. Mayfield is qualified to seek federal appointment, having in mind the fashion in the naming of Texans. In point of ability, at most, he is qualified to this certain service; he knows railroad operations. But let him not forget to write "Austin" in the recommendations that go to Washington.

That lamentable affair at Texas City Junction is convincing proof that some soldiers should first learn how to protect themselves in time of peace.

SCOPE OF THE "TRUST" INQUIRY.

The federal commissioner of corporations, Mr. Davies, in announcing that he will ask congress for $600,000 to defray the expenses of an investigation which his bureau is about to institute under the direction of President Wilson, states that this will be the most extensive work ever undertaken by the bureau of corporations. If congress appropriates that amount, he says it is his intention to double his present force. Mr. Davies thus outlines the proposed inquiry:

The investigation will be two-fold. We will make a scientific study of the question of monopoly to determine the question of fact as to the alleged advantages of economies in production by the trust form of enterprise. The attitude of the Democratic party on the question of monopolies is, of course, well known, and my own adherence to the declarations of the platform never has been fairly open to question.

The Pujo and Stanley committees of congress made exhaustive investigations, as did also the committee on judiciary of the house and the Interstate Commerce committee of the senate, and have demonstrated that certain evils exist which should be remedied forthwith. These committees have given the most careful consideration to the remedy. In my judgment congress and these committees will address themselves to these remedies, and any investigation which this bureau will make will not interfere with or delay congress in this work.

The other work of inquiry to be undertaken by this bureau is the gathering of information regarding all of the large corporations of the country, so that it will be available in the framing of legislation or the determination of executive action in the future. It is proposed to ask the corporations to fill out blanks giving all valuable information about their "organization, conduct and management," which is the language employed in the law creating the bureau.

"The trust" inquiry which Commissioner Davies intends to make will not be confined to an intensive investigation of one or two corporations at a time, as in the case of the United States Steel Corporation and the International Harvester Company under the Republican administration. It will cover the whole field down to a certain limit of size yet to be determined. Among other things, it is expected to uncover the so-called system of "interlocking directorates."

Several Things Overlooked.
Mr. Mayes fails to mention the pernicious fee system.—Austin Statesman.

Pertinent and proper objection. Perhaps Mr. Mayes has overlooked from days ago another matter or two. Remember, Texas wants accomplished by its next governor some of the essentials of common welfare ignored by governors who have been. It is not improbable that other candidates will omit this or that desirable reform from their "platforms." It is gratifying that a newspaper on the ground is also on guard. It's a pity that most politicians believe the public has an usefully short memory—and it's a greater pity that this happens to be the fact.

A WORKABLE ARBITRATION LAW.

New York Commercial outlines Canada's arbitration law "that is very workable in settling disputes between railroads or mine owners especially and their employees, and while it has not brought about an ideal condition of affairs in the Dominion, it has been of great service at times." Canada has also a criminal code with teeth in it, and the courts and officers of the law possess ability and willingness to enforce the law. The city of Vancouver, B. C., was the scene of some labor agitation which, however, did not result in serious trouble at that point, but the disturbed conditions spread to the mining regions as a result of the campaign of agitation of labor leaders imported from the United States who had come into Canada for the purpose of reorganizing union labor on the plan of the Industrial Workers of the World.

The situation became somewhat acute at the Ladysmith mines last August, but the government sent an overwhelming force to the scene of the disturbance and arrested a large number of rioters and their leaders. These men were tried at Vancouver last week, and three men and two boys were sentenced to two years each in the penitentiary, twenty-three others were given one year each and fined $100, and eleven more were sent to jail for three months and fined $50 each. Among those who received the heaviest sentence imposed were J. J. Taylor, vice president of the British Columbia Federation of Labor; Samuel Guthrie, president of the Ladysmith Mine Workers' Union, and Paul Deconink, an agitator who had acquired considerable influence over the foreign-speaking miners.

"This is an example of how to enforce the law which should be studied on this side of the line," says the Commercial. Canada protects the working class with very liberal laws, and in return asks them to keep the peace and appeal to the courts whenever they have grievances. Appeals to mob laws and violence are sternly repressed, and this is the only logical way in which laws designed to benefit the working classes can be made of real value to them. The first duty of peace officers is to maintain peace, and that is the policy which is being followed by our Northern neighbors.

Query:
How much better off women are now in the matter of dress than in the days when a woman's clothing weighed at least 19 pounds and she wore 22 layers of linen.—Mrs. Mary S. Woolman.

How much better off, of course, Madam. But also, how much more off? How many pounds, nowadays; how many layers of muslin? Or how few? Our curiosity and our blushes will out!

Those Rotarians should distribute their fraternal internal "investigations" more pleasantly for the investigators. Rondthaler, for example, will look into Cox's candy business; Munerlyn will visit Patton's house where women's apparel is sold; McPeak is up against Rondthaler's cemetery proposition; Crawford has the Herculean task of ascertaining how Quarles conducts the news end of a daily, and there you are. Bearing in mind that the Rotarians are a genial lot and love their little social gatherings, it would seem Rondthaler is the only one who is given a chance to combine club business and personal enjoyment. Perhaps Patton will give Munerlyn a souvenir or two to take home, but what raffle could there be for McPeak and Crawford?

License all drivers of motor vehicles who can pass a test of ability to control cars under all circumstances and conditions of traffic and travel, thereby reducing the number of reckless, irresponsible and incapable drivers and the number of serious accidents. Let the police be required thoroughly to enforce the ordinance in the crowded, narrow streets and other thoroughfares of the business district—holding drivers to a safe rate of speed as circumstances prompt and as they have the right to do in guarding the safety of the public. Under some conditions in the business district, 10 miles would not be a safe speed. This situation the police legally can regulate. Let the police put a stop to such violations as turning in the middle of a block, a glaringly unsafe practice; let them give more attention to the manner in which machines pass the street cars, the manner in which they turn corners of busy streets. Let the police take up their posts in the streets, rather than against the walls and in the doorways of shops. We have frequently pointed out that the same of spotting speeders in the residence sections is not the important thing. The ordinance must be enforced generally, of course; but it is infinitely less important and less serious if a driver speeds at 15 or 20 miles where traffic and travel are light than if a young show-off rushes his car through the business section careless of what and whom he may strike down. There can be sanity and sense in enforcing the traffic ordinance as well as in enforcing any other law. What we ask of the police is that they put first things first and, above all, that they take the trouble to keep their eyes open and act on what they see.

The Omissive Official Family.

Editor Green has it in Tyler Courier-Times that "there in Texas suits are not prosecuted against men who sell whiskey or impure food which lead to suffering. It is right though to hold men responsible for the harm they do; but this idea has not yet possessed the Texas official family." A just man and informed, Col. Green should rather limit that "Texas official family" in fixing the blame. He probably knows just how hard a time it is the State food and drugs commissioner and his inspectors, and a few genuinely conscientious local health authorities who co-operate with the commissioner for the public's health, have in getting certain county prosecutors to bring such complaints to trial; how hard a time, too, they have in getting juries that will hold violators of the food and drugs act responsible for the harm they do. Local "pull" is a big, serious factor in encouraging grocers, butchers, restaurateurs and fruit sellers to persist in adulterative methods, insanitary methods of preparation and keeping and general disregard—caused either by selfishness, indifference or ignorance—of the health and the rights of their customers. In getting after the "Texas official family" for conditions in the food supply, let's first ascertain what becomes of complaints actually filed.

Texas Viewpoints.

Quite a Different Sort.
"Let's have a woman yell leader," properly demands The Lariat, Baylor. In form only, not in substance by any means! The Lariat's sentence recalls the early denunciation of the Pankhurst by Col. Watterson: "Let's have done with this head howler!"

If True, Admirable.

El Paso Times gives the striking information that "the State of Texas has at Gatesville an institution known as the State reformatory, the object of whose existence is the reformation of wayward boys. Youngsters of the State who commit crimes at an age that does not warrant sending them to the State penitentiary are sent to this reformatory, where they are kept under restraint, surrounded by wholesome influences, taught some useful trade and an effort made to mould them into honest, honorable and useful citizens." At least, the Times has stated correctly the theory of the creation of the State Juvenile Training School (as it is newly called) and has expressed, in what it gives as present facts, the hopes of the managers of the institution and the desire of the last legislature to co-operate, by providing useful funds, for the speedy realization of wholesome influences and useful, practical trades instruction. The institution would be rather more what the Times claims for it had the executive not refused at the legislature's hands some of the improvements which he himself, and the institution's friends, asked of the legislature—provision for equipping the most important of all the school's buildings, the industrial building; and a fair amount for general repairs that have been a crying need for more than a decade.

Callan's Cautious Concept.

Claude C. Callan, continuing to columbia each p. m. in Fort Worth Star-Telegram, says that Mr. Bok says the people of forty years ago were better educated than those of today. Then, being unable to do so, Callan must go on to prove that Bok may know what he's talking about, thuswise: "Then it is your fault, Mr. Bok. We all have been depending upon you for an education, on everything from whether it is proper to cool soup with the breath or a blow, to the question of submitting to the management of our wives." We sometimes think Callan really may be taking in gobs of Homely Ladies' Journal wisdom, occasionally his stuff reflects it; but if he is willing to acknowledge his indebtedness to Bok it is no sign the rest of us are likewise indebted—or would acknowledge it if we were. Fact is, if "we all have been depending on" Bok for an education, Bok is right—the people of forty years ago were better educated. Let Callan speak for himself only, in this regard; if he wants to keep on cooling bouillon with his breath and be bossed by his—well, let him speak for himself, that's all.

MAY RAISE THE LIMIT

TEN MILES AN HOUR TOO SLOW FOR WACO, AUTOMOBILISTS ARGUE.

Commission Instructs City Attorney to Draw an Amended Ordinance. Recorder Forced the Issue.

Expressing the belief that the ten-miles-an-hour limit on automobiles as a citywide law was unfair and unnecessary for the safety of life and limb, some thirty members of the Waco Automobile club came before the city commission yesterday morning and urged that the ordinance fixing the speed of vehicles be amended so as to grant a faster rate in the residence section. They presented their case so appealingly to the commission that the city attorney has been instructed to bring in an amended ordinance as soon as expedient.

An Amended Ordinance.
This ordinance will be drafted after the attorney has discussed the matter with the automobilists and pedestrians, with the view of embodying protective measures to cover every contingency. In all probability, from the expressions of those commissioners who led the discussion, the ordinance will fix ten miles an hour in a certain prescribed section of the downtown district and fifteen miles in the residence section.

This action came from the automobilists after City Recorder J. G. Wren had announced that, beginning today, the ten-miles-an-hour limit as prescribed by law in all parts of the city must be observed. Heretofore Judge Wren has been lenient with automobile drivers which was to allow them a latitude of fifteen miles in the business district and twenty in the residence. As soon as he let it be known that this leniency was at an end the delegation besieged the commission.

Protection Assured.
In the event the ordinance is passed it will contain some protective measures that have never been written into the local traffic laws. Among these are a regulation requiring pedestrians to cross the street at right angles at street intersections; provision that every auto driver must be licensed and provision that signs must be given by an autoist to those following his car when he is about to stop or turn a corner.

Ray Opens Argument.

As president of the Auto club, Jack Ray opened the argument. He said that if the city regulated horses, buggies, automobiles, motorcycles and other vehicles to a low rate of speed during the busy hours in Austin street that thoroughfare would be blocked, and stated that ten-mile limit on cars is not fast. He said there was no disposition on the part of the automobilists to violate the ordinance, but they wanted the privilege of going at a reasonable rate of speed, saying at ten miles an hour a car could be stopped in three yards. Asked if he desired to make a recommendation, Mr. Ray said he desired the ordinance as presented by Judge Wren to stand. To this Mayor Mackey said Wren was an elected officer and the commission could not insist on his firing a case, as he is accountable to the people. Mr. Ray said the city did not allow the autoist to pass a street car when the car was standing and now they were putting the speed rate so low they could not keep up with the cars.

A Word for the Chauffeur.
Mayor Mackey said he could account for more accidents by other vehicles than automobiles, and Mr. Ray said the auto driver has more control over his machine than a driver of a horse has over his animal and that most accidents occur where the driver is running a hired car. He advocated an ordinance every individual who drives over 15 years of age has to have a license and the officer could look at the license at any time. To obtain a license the applicant has to go before a physician or board of examiners. If the driver has no license he can be arrested, therefore any one under 15 years of age who drives a car can be arrested.

Mayor Mackey said the city board had been taking such criticism for doing what he believed was best for the people, saying he advocated the age and qualification restriction three years ago, and that Lud Williams, the city attorney, said such a measure would be unconstitutional. He read a letter from Mr. Williams elaborating upon this opinion and then said the commission could not stand further criticism, but must take some action.

For Kansas City Law.
Roy E. Lutz of the delegation advocated the adoption of the rule in vogue in Kansas City, which he said, was the tag and license system. He said a penalty is attached and if the autoist violates the law frequently his license is declared void and he cannot operate a car. A charge of $1 is made for license, which goes to pay the board of examiners who examine the applicant for license.

Rayless Earle said ten miles an hour was too slow and advocated an ordinance, stating that most people did not require an ordinance to compel them to observe the law. He suggested twelve in the business and fifteen in the residence section and also suggested that some sign or signal be adopted so that an auto driver could signal those following him when he is about to turn a corner or stop his car.

Must Go Faster.
George Strubbsfield said he had put on auto delivery cars and each took the place of two or three delivery horse wagons. He said his driver will have to go faster than ten miles an hour to do this.

James Jamison said if the rate was held at ten miles an hour he would be compelled to take off his delivery autos. He said a car could be stopped as quickly going eighteen miles an hour as a horse going ten miles an hour. He said speed does not create danger, as he had seen men driving five miles an hour that were driving at a reckless rate.

Views of Medical Men.
Dr. L. M. Lanham said eighteen miles an hour in the residence district was not unsafe if the street was clear, but that this is latitude enough and due caution should be exercised.

Dr. J. L. Burgess suggested the auto club and the commission discuss the matter before action was taken. Mr. Miller of the Graham-Jarrell company said his driver had informed him he could not make deliveries at ten miles an hour.

Life and Limb Involved.
I. Friedlander said it was important as a matter of safety that pedestrians be prevented from crossing the streets except at recognized crossings.

Commissioner Dollins said there had been much agitation in the papers, which had made the general public believe that the man who owns a car

How to Detect the Alum Baking Powder

"Which are the alum baking powders; how can I avoid them unless they are named?" asks a housekeeper.

Here is one way: take the can of a low-priced powder in your hand and read the ingredient clause upon the back label. The law requires that if the powder contains alum that fact must be there stated. If you find one of the ingredients named alum, or sulphate of aluminum, you have found an alum baking powder.

There is another and a better way. You don't have to know the names of the alum powders. Use Royal Baking Powder only; that assures you a cream of tartar powder, and the purest and most healthful baking powder beyond question.

thinks he is better than others, and that that was not so.

Dr. J. W. Hale said reckless driving, not speed, was the dangerous feature. He said at twelve miles an hour a car could be stopped within its length.

Caulfield's Suggestion.
Commissioner Caulfield introduced a motion that the city attorney bring in an amendment fixing the rate of speed at ten miles in the business and fifteen miles in the residence section and fine miles rounding corners. This motion was later modified to allow the auto men and city attorney to consult. However, from expressions his will be the result of the visit of the motorists.

The little fellow was bitten by a house cat last Friday and the head of the animal was removed and sent to Austin for examination. Word was received that the examination showed the cat to have had hydrophobia and to send the child there for treatment at once and these instructions were promptly carried out. Up to the time of his departure the child exhibited no untoward effects from the wound.

Boy's Thumb Cut Off.

Jarrell, Tex., Nov. 25.—As the result of a peculiar accident a little son of John Jackson, a farmer, residing near here, suffered the loss of a thumb on one hand, the member being sheared off as clean as if done with a carving knife.

The child was playing with a brother and had tied a stout cord to a door knob, the other end being looped and encircling his thumb. The brother unexpectedly gave the door a jerk and the terrific force pulled the cord taut and brought the thumb off with it. The injured boy was brought here and given surgical attention.

Temple, Tex., Nov. 25.—A contract has been awarded W. T. Montgomery, who is building road roads in the Belton precinct, for the construction of about one mile of gravelled roadway from the city limits of Temple to the public square of this city, which will give a continuous permanent road from Belton to the latter point.

The chamber of commerce organized the movement which was responsible for securing this improvement.

HANDSOME GOWNS AT THE WEDDING

BRIDE WORE WHITE SATIN, OF SOFT WEAVE, OF LUSTROUS QUALITY.

COLOR SCHEME WAS OF PINK

Finds Loveliest Expression in the Dresses of the Bridesmaids. Gown of Mrs. Wilson.

Washington, Nov. 25.—The bridal gown worn at the White House today was of white satin, a soft weave, but of a light and very lustrous quality. Real point lace, orange blossoms and embroidery added elegance and beauty. The skirt was the modish draped one, the fullness showing most on the left front. The neck was cut out a little and the embroidery of an orange blossom design, outlined the opening and also extended down the side front of the bodice and the skirt. The sleeves were finished off with frills of the point lace.

The lace also appeared in the draped waist and where the folds were caught it was with tiny clusters of orange blossoms. The bridal flower also held the draped folds on the skirt. The train was very long—long enough for regulation court use—and was cut square at the end.

The tulle bridal veil almost fell the length of the train. It was held to the coiffure by a cap of point lace, similar to the lace trimming the dress. The Dutch cap style of veil arrangement was exceedingly becoming to the bride, whose fair hair, very smoothly dressed in coils close to her head, gave just the right effect. Orange blossoms sprayed the lace, and formed something of a wreath around the head.

Pink Color Scheme. The pink color scheme of the wedding found its loveliest expression in the bridesmaid's dresses. The maid of honor and the four bridesmaids wore dresses and hats made precisely alike but varying in shade. The maid of honor wore the palest pink of any, a shell tint so delicate that in some lights it was almost white. Two of the bridesmaids wore deep rose and the dresses of the other two were in a much lighter tint. The make was very modish. Slim outlines were preserved around the hem of the draped skirts but a more bouffant effect was apparent around the waist line and hips.

The dresses were all of charmeuse and the chiffon over-drapery was in the exact shade. Chiffon and silver lace also draped the waists and the tunics of the bridesmaids. A very shapely, shiny lace was used in the high, flaring Marie Antoinette collar and in the flowing sleeves.

These costumes were worn with moderate sized hats trimmed with silver lace and made of pink moire.

Mrs. Wilson's Gown. Mrs. Wilson, wife of the president, wore the most elaborate gown in which she has thus far been seen in the White House. The shade was ecru, the color very becoming to her, because of her clear skin and rosy cheeks. The material was velvet brocade chiffon with ecru lace and mink tail trimming.

Under the lace a band of old blue and gold brocade showed and the soft colors in this combination were reproduced in the corsage bouquet worn at the left waist line. The lace which was very supple fell in a cascade from the waist to the hem in front and caught back the drapery at the left side. A sash also made of the lace fell in at the back, the ends being bordered with mink tails.

The bride's going away suit was a girlish costume of hunter's green zibeline with a waist in the same shade of charmeuse. The latter was ornamented with embroidery in green tones and a brightening shade. Her hat was of green moire and stiff bows of velvet made the trimming.

Picture Frocks of Miss Burleson. Among other gowns noted was that of Miss Sidney Burleson, daughter of Postmaster General and Mrs. Burleson, who was a picture in a frock of white crepe, trimmed with ruffles of white tulle and a little dark fur showed around the edges of the ruffles on the waist and a Watteau hat if ribbon, lace and flowers finished off the costume.

Miss Dorothy Aleshire, daughter of Brigadier General and Mrs. Aleshire, wore a smart costume of terra cotta velvet de laine with fur trimming. Her hat was of black velvet. Miss Marjorie Aleshire wore a velvet suit and hat and ermine fur. The Aleshires are the guests of the president.

Among the first to entertain the Wilson girls last spring.

Bride's Girl Chums. The bride's girl chums included Miss Anne Greble, daughter of Col. and Mrs. E. W. St. John Greble, who wore a blue velvet costume with a black hat with blue feather trimming. Mrs. W. L. Estes, Jr., another daughter also of Col. and Mrs. Greble, wore a brown velvet and chiffon costume, with a brown hat. Her furs were mink. Lieut. and Mrs. Estes came on from their home in Bethlehem, Pa., for the wedding.

The Greble girls belong to the riding set at the capital and Miss Jessie Wilson and her sisters got a good deal of their pleasure last spring joining these riding parties.

Madame Jusserand, wife of the French ambassador, dean of the diplomatic corps, who with her husband occupied a place of honor among the diplomats, wore black and white satin, a tunic of black chiffon, black and white chiffon forming the bodice. Her hat was reasonably large, and its trimming was white plumes.

The Countess Bernstorff, wife of the German ambassador, wore a brown and gold damask. The smart mingling of tints in chiffon in the bodice had touches of fur as relief. Her hat brought in another color, a soft violet shade in velvet.

Wife of British Ambassador. Lady Spring-Rice, wife of the British ambassador, and a new-comer to the present makeup of Washington society, wore one of the most elegant costumes seen. It was of charmeuse of a dull gold shade, the skirt bordered with an embroidered band of chiffon in which several soft colors showed. The skirt had something of the pannier effect and the embroidered chiffon was used in the make of the bodice. Her hat had a top matching the dress and had an ostrich feather the same shade as the left side. She wore a splendid set of marten fur as a wrap.

Mrs. Bryan, wife of the secretary of state, wore a coat suit in velvet. The shade was a deep orchid. The skirt was draped at the left side. The coat was edged with Siberian squirrel around the bottom and the collar was of the same fur. Her toque was of plush, harmonizing in color with her dress. It was edged with Siberian squirrel and a fancy feather ornament was in front.

Mrs. Edward Douglas White, wife of the chief justice of the supreme court, wore a costume of black charmeuse and point lace and a black hat trimmed with white plumes.

Mrs. McKenna, wife of Associate Justice McKenna, wore a black velvet costume. The coat had a blue collar and vest. Her black hat was trimmed with plumes.

Mrs. Charles Evans Hughes, wife of Associate Justice Hughes, wore a handsome gown of king's blue velvet with a hat of the same shade of velvet trimmed with chinchilla fur.

Mrs. Harrison, wife of the secretary of war, wore sage green silk poplin, trimmed with point de Venice lace and bands of sable fur. Her hat was small, matched in color and was trimmed with fur and ostrich feathers.

Mrs. Houston, wife of the secretary of agriculture, wore brown charmeuse and chiffon trimmed with mink fur, and her hat in deeper shades had touches of the fur and an ostrich feather trimming it.

Mrs. Joseph Rucker Lamar, wife of Associate Justice Lamar, wore a draped gown of taupe chiffon velvet, the bodice made entirely of tan color lace and chiffon trimmed with dark brown fur and ostrich feathers.

Mrs. Van Devanter, wife of Associate Justice Van Devanter, wore a black velvet gown and a black velvet hat.

Healthful, Wrinkle-Free Skin Easy to Have

(From The Woman Beautiful.) A dull, muddy complexion or an over-red, blotchy pimply or freckled skin, can be by a quite simple, harmless and inexpensive method, be changed to one of radiant and healthy beauty. One ounce of common mercurized wax, sold by druggists generally, will remove the most unsightly complexion in from one to two weeks. Its remarkable absorptive power, the withered faded or discolored layer of thin, film-skin which hides the healthier skin underneath, is gradually flaked off in tiny, almost invisible particles. This is done so gently there is no inconvenience, and no trace is left on the skin except that of enhanced beauty. The wax is smeared on like cold cream before retiring and removed in the morning with warm water.

A face made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered salicylic acid in 1 pint witch hazel will be found most effective. Combining both astringent and tonic properties, this tightens the skin and braces up its supporting muscles.

WHITE HOUSE WEDDING

love, placed it on the finger of her husband.

As they knelt on a white fur rug, the gift of the minister from Peru, the Rev. John Nevin Sayre pronounced the benediction. The couple rose, shook hands with the clergyman, and the bride procession moved to the Mendelssohn strain along the great corridor again but turned in at the blue room to receive the guests.

Here for the moment before the procession began the bridesmaids kissed the bride affectionately and there was a general scene not unlike weddings of the world over.

For nearly an hour the guests passed through the blue room to offer their congratulations. Members of the cabinet, justices of the supreme court, diplomats and their wives, Speaker Clark and the leaders of congress greeted first the President and Mrs. Wilson, standing at one door and passed on to Mr. and Mrs. Sayre.

Many Old Friends Congratulate. Among them were many old friends from Princeton, President Harry A. Garfield of Williams, Secretary McAlpin of Princeton, Cleveland H. Dodge, Robert Garrett, who were members of the board of trustees when Mr. Wilson was at Princeton, Col. E. M. House, Charles R. Crane of Chicago, chairman of the national committee and Mrs. McCombs, Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary, U. S. N., Governor-elect Fielder of New Jersey, the New Jersey congressional delegation and a host of others, the bride of them except for the official, being from points outside of Washington.

Little Miss Mary Tumulty, nine-year-old daughter of Secretary and Mrs. Tumulty, was the only child in the reception line. As she passed both Mrs. Wilson and the bride kissed her. The informal dance in the east room after reception was not planned but became one of the most delightful parts of the affair. The many bands moved into the east room, where the tango and other steps were danced by the young folks.

Refreshments in State Dining Room. Refreshments were served in the state dining room. The bride and groom, the bridesmaids and the executive offices before taking their automobile. The bride party were the guests during the evening of the Misses Margaret and Eleanor Wilson at the white house.

Not since the inauguration has there been such crowds around the white house as gathered today. Traffic policemen patrolled Pennsylvania avenue and scores of police guarded all gates. The guests were admitted by card. Miss Eleanor Wilson, the youngest daughter of the president, and the Misses Mary and Lucy Smith of New Orleans, who are house guests, who took a walk in the early afternoon, were asked for cards on their return. A policeman unacquainted with the faces of the white house family hesitated a moment when the ladies explained their identity, but finally admitted them.

The crowds fringed every side of the white house and listened to the grand until long after sundown. The greatest jam was at the east entrance where most of the guests entered. Here the crowd caught a glimpse of the gowns of the women guests and climbed higher on the steps of the treasury building to peer into the east room.

FALLS TO OBSERVE ROADS DAYS

Plans Are Taking Definite Shape and Dec. 3 and 4 Will See Many Good Citizens Lending Hands.

Marlin, Nov. 25.—Plans for the observance of good roads days are taking more definite form than even the commissioners themselves expected when they set apart December 3 and 4 as good roads days.

It looks like now that there will be an army of road workers out on these days and that great and lasting good will be accomplished in the way of actual road building. Word comes from people throughout the county that they are ready and anxious to put in two days' good hard work in an effort to improve the roads.

Commissioner Barton and Judge Hunsbott have been devising ways and means of organizing the forces and have decided upon the plan of having the road overseers warn out their hands for the various roads in the precinct and have the volunteers assist them.

It is believed that the overseers can plan their work in advance and if the people turn out to help a great deal of work can be done. They have the assurance that many will don their overalls and put in two full days. The volunteers may choose from any of the roads in Falls county and their help will be appreciated by overseers and citizens.

DALLAS RENTS HIGH.

Moderate Salaried Men Find Trouble Getting Houses.

Dallas, Nov. 25.—That Dallas is experiencing the greatest demand for rent houses in its history is evidenced from the number of requests the police have received, asking permission to move into houses made vacant by the breaking up of the reservation several days ago. Moderate salaried men claim they cannot pay the high rent prices in new additions and in other parts of the city.

Sothorn and Marlowe Coming Brian Gives a Guarantee

Manager at Auditorium Has Arranged for Big Production—Opens a Down Town Box Office.

To my Patrons: It may be that the theatregoers of Waco and Central Texas have thought it strange no announcement has been made by the Auditorium regarding the appearance in Waco of E. H. Sothorn and Julia Marlowe, who are now on a Texas tour in Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliette." When I was in New York last summer, I made every endeavor to book them for Waco, but was informed that the "town was too small." However, I did not give up my efforts to afford the people of Waco the best attractions obtainable. As a result of personal appeal and a guaranty of $2500 I have succeeded in inducing Mr. Sothorn's manager to cancel one day in an engagement in another Texas city several times larger than Waco in order that the production could be staged here. I will not detail the appeals and influence I have used, but I am glad to announce to my friends the success that has attended my efforts.

An elaboration of what an engagement of Sothorn and Marlowe is, would be an affront to the intelligent patron of a modern theatre. It is an event in New York and everywhere else. As I have said, I had to put up $2500 as a guarantee before they would even consider coming to Waco.

This morning promptly at 9 o'clock, the sale of tickets for this grand production will commence at the Old Corner Drug Store, which in future will be the box office of the Auditorium, and all seats must be paid for at the time, as none will be called for later, and those who call first will have first choice in the selection of seats.

Respectfully,
CHARLES T. BRIAN, Jr., Manager.

Auditorium Box Office.

As important changes have been made in the local theatre situation in Waco, the following statement from Manager Charles T. Brian, Jr., of the Auditorium Theatre was made yesterday:

Since I have been in Waco, in charge of the Auditorium, I have striven faithfully to not only procure the best shows possible, but also to add every convenience for my patrons. Of course, there have been some things not exactly to my liking, but I believe I have raised the theatrical situation in Waco.

I am pleased to announce that I have concluded arrangements with Dr. W. B. Morrison, president of the Old Corner Drug Store, whereby in future the box office of the Auditorium will be located in the Old Corner Drug Store, and where tickets will be on sale. All our attractions will be announced through the press, and four days in advance of each show tickets may be purchased at the box office in the Old Corner Drug Store. For matinees, tickets may be reserved up to 1 o'clock noon, day of performance, when they will be transferred to the Auditorium. For evening performances, the box office will remain open until 6 p. m., day of performance, when they in turn will be taken to the Auditorium. All tickets not called for prior to time tickets (either for matinee or evening performance) are taken to the Auditorium, will be placed on general sale and not reserved. This is in keeping with general practice all over the country, and in response to demands of patrons, who do not feel it right to be compelled to wait on the rush at the door, choking up the lobby and aisles, delaying the curtain, swamping the ushers and in general contributing to a disagreeable situation. The patrons of the theatre in Waco are as sensible as anywhere else, and in this move I am complying with their wishes. People certainly will know by as late as 4 o'clock whether they will be able to attend the show that evening; and inasmuch as the box office is now placed in a central location I am sure it will meet with public approval. Both telephones will be placed in the box office and careful and courteous attention will be given everybody.

Respectfully,
CHARLES T. BRIAN, Jr., Manager.

This Farmer Makes Record.

Richland Springs, Tex., Nov. 25.—Matt Adams of near this place is entitled to the belt as champion single-handed farmer. Last year he bought a farm near here, for which he paid $5,000. It is a San Saba county farm that was first settled in 1875 and has been continuously cultivated since.

Mr. Adams realized therefrom in cross this year cotton to the value of $4,500, cotton seed valued at $375, 740 bushels of oats and corn, enough cane and maize to feed his teams for one year. He gathered sixty-one bales of cotton from 110 acres. The only hired help that he had cost him $119. The rest was velvet, the farm more than paying for itself the first year.

A NOTABLE "CAESAR"

FAVERSHAM'S PRODUCTION OF SHAKESPEARE'S TRAGEDY IS AN ARTISTIC TRIUMPH.

MacLean as Brutus, Rowan's Cassius, Miss Tyler as Portia, Share Success With Star.

At the Auditorium: Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar"—William Winter's revision of Booth's version, in four acts and nine scenes; presented by William Faversham. The principals:

Caesar.....T. F. Tracey
Antony.....Charles Rowan
Brutus.....Mr. Faversham
Cassius.....Ernest Rowan
Decius Brutus.....Arthur Elliott
First Citizen.....Walter De Guerre
Calpurnia.....Miss Jane Webster
Portia.....Miss Odette Tyler
Cimber.....Henley Edwards

The Marc Antony who was William Faversham, stirred well the mob and moved the legions. It was the Marcus Brutus who was Mr. Rowan who moved the minds and stirred very truly the hearts of many in the well-rewarded audience that last night heard this immortal tragedy. Faversham's Antony dominated beyond the obvious intent of the play. He made the stump speech for it is just that—vitality strong. Mr. Faversham is to be praised not only for his own reading and for the genuine success he has achieved in his putting-on of the play, but for his thoroughly generous subordinating of the part of Antony to the relative values of the parts of his associates.

that may be offered in a mention of the presentation.

There have been other elaborate productions of "Julius Caesar," the memory of a few last night ran even to the playing of Booth and Barrett, the writer has in the twenty years past seen the best of the stagings of this play and heard the best of those who have played it. But for him—and he thinks for those here who have loved the tragedy long and studied it much, who have heard those American players in it whom we revere as great—it was a liberal education and an occasion of enlightenment and true teaching to look on the settings of the Faversham presentation designed by Tadema, on the costuming of it, on the rarely chronic detail of it; to hear, and have rendered utterly natural, eloquently simple, the oration that is a classic of all literature and the greatest political address of ancient time—and the sterling philosophy and precepts of patriotism that are given for utterance to "the noblest Roman of them all." It was reading of Shakespeare that uplifted—Faversham's Rowan's Miss Tyler's, but above all, MacLean's interpretation of the wondrously-drawn character of Brutus.

None was conventional, none was stilted. Mr. Faversham made the speech over the body of Caesar to be such a speech as Shakespeare himself adjusts to in another tragedy. It was the scene of subtlety, the keenness of the right use of pathos, the quintessence of artful appeal to cupidity; it was a fine blending of sarcasm and pseudo-ingeniousness. His voice was suited, his gestures freely expressive. He did not thrust needless inflections on lines in this oration—especially in its whippings of sarcasm that are commonly, and mistakenly, over-stressed. He did not seek that his part dominate beyond the obvious intent of the play. He made the stump speech for it is just that—vitality strong. Mr. Faversham is to be praised not only for his own reading and for the genuine success he has achieved in his putting-on of the play, but for his thoroughly generous subordinating of the part of Antony to the relative values of the parts of his associates.

Mr. MacLean's Brutus is pre-eminent.

AT THE DIXIE THEATRE

ATTRACTIVE MOTION PIC.

TUES ALL THIS WEEK

It did not need this production to make known his assured ability as a player of Shakespeare's person. His playing of Othello and of Romeo, for examples, has been notable. But it is to be said he has never given finer reading to the lines of the conspiracy, in his dealing with Caesar in the tent at Sardis, with finest intelligence and originality in the soliloquy that brings on the imagining of the presence of the ghost of Caesar, does his interpretation rank highly. Those who had not seen a Brutus of such quality came away with a new, lasting impression of the character. Mr. MacLean gave the believably that Brutus was an honorable man and a noble.

Mr. Rowan played Cassius skillfully, firmly. His lines in the first act had the merit of forceful enunciation and command in revealing their importance in revealing the inception and political intent of the conspiracy. His reading in the scenes with Brutus at Sardis and Philippi was worthy of the impress of these scenes—that is, as much as Mr. MacLean's did the playing of Mr. Rowan at these times contribute to the intellectual pleasure of the audience. Mr. Tracey was at his best in the senate chamber; his was a Caesar—and this contains no double meaning—that was best at the death, for there was veritable artistry in his manner of expiring. Mr. Elliott was not the usual Cassius, not the expected and the imagined Cassius. He was stout, sedate in looks if not in speech. In speech he portrayed well the character of the wild-minded conspirator. Miss Odette Tyler—Miss Constance Collier of the billings—was Portia and it is not likely the public was the loser for a change. In the brief space of her speaking—the garden scene—she was excellent, intelligent of noble mind, dignified, sweet, as well-liked in this part as in any of the many she has read in Shakespeare. Miss Webster gave a moment or two of capable playing, especially in the tableau that followed the assassination.

When at the end of the third act Mr. Faversham was given his due of the applause that was liberal tribute to all the principal players and an hearty response particularly to the playing of Mr. MacLean and Mr. Rowan in their scenes together, he said in a brief word of gratitude that if the audience found the presentation "half-way artistic" the company would be satisfied. Then the company should be greatly satisfied for the presentation was found wholly artistic. Each person deserves, and would be given did space permit, some individual word of appreciation.

Company, spirit of the production, its every appointment, did honor to the service of education the writings of Shakespeare have brought to mankind.

Health and Beauty Answers

BY MRS. MAE MARTIN

Guilivere: Yes, you can overcome the results of the careless treatment of your hair which has commenced to destroy its natural beauty and cause it to grow dull, "stringy," brittle and fall out. I would just shampoo occasionally by using a teaspoonful of cantharid dissolved in a cup of water. This greatly invigorates the scalp tissues and hair roots, and produces a healthy condition in both, insuring a beautiful growth of even-colored, lustrous, fluffy hair. I have found cantharid shampoo is extremely soothing to tender, itchy scalps and allows the hair to dry very quickly.

A. L.: The delicate treatment for hairy growths is quite harmless and rarely is more than one application required. Mix a little powdered delatone with water and apply to the objectionable hairs, then after two or three minutes rub it off, and the hairs come with it. Washing the skin leaves it firm and free from blemish.

Darling: Yes, it is true that fat always destroys the beautiful lines of the figure, but if you do as I have before advised in these columns, you can get rid of the fat and your form will be plump and beautifully proportioned. In one and one-half pints of cold water, add one ounce of tea-spoonful of glycerine. Stir and let stand for one day. To remove or prevent wrinkles, apply this vegetable cream-jelly thickly and massage thoroughly. At night leave the face covered with the cream. You will find nothing to equal almond jelly-cream to remove wrinkles and keep them away, and it contains no oil or fat which might promote hair growth. You will also notice by its use not only wrinkles disappearing, but the large pores of the entire face getting much smaller and the skin very soft and velvety.

Oliver: Yes, I know a sure cure for wrinkles which can be cheaply made at home. I mix one ounce of alcohol with one-half pint of cold water and two tea-spoonfuls of glycerine. Stir and let stand for one day. To remove or prevent wrinkles, apply this vegetable cream-jelly thickly and massage thoroughly. At night leave the face covered with the cream. You will find nothing to equal almond jelly-cream to remove wrinkles and keep them away, and it contains no oil or fat which might promote hair growth. You will also notice by its use not only wrinkles disappearing, but the large pores of the entire face getting much smaller and the skin very soft and velvety.

Pearl: You girls were right when you decided that face powder clogs the pores, even though much is blown off the skin and leaves a spotted effect. You can avoid this annoyance and enjoy a softer, healthier, finer complexion if you apply a spursion lotion. This is quite inexpensive and is prepared by dissolving four ounces of spursion in one-half pint of water or hot water, to which is added two tea-spoonfuls of glycerine. The spursion lotion is invisible when on and requires no further attention. You will find it especially nice to banish summer's freckles and tan and the salve, unbroken cast of powder-smothered skin and to give a delightful freshness and youth-tint to your skin.

Johanna: Yes, you have a good reason to feel alarmed about your hair. But you can remove the dandruff and overcome that dryness without paying a large sum to a hair specialist. Just make up and use the quinzoin hair tonic I frequently advise and it will put the scalp in a healthy condition and your hair will grow in thick and beautiful. Here is the recipe: Into one-half pint alcohol pour one ounce quinzoin, then to this add one-half pint water. This gives you a full pint of the finest hair tonic, and I know its use will insure a clean, healthy scalp and a wealth of brilliant, fluffy hair.

Lucy: You want to brighten and strengthen your eyes and can easily do so by using this plain crystal eye tonic which I have great faith because of the good it has done in so many instances, and I am sure if you put two or three drops of it in your sore, aching eye at frequent intervals for a time, the inflammation will disappear. To prepare this inexpensive tonic, dissolve one ounce crystal in a pint of clear water. To dull, lifeless eyes it will lend a youthful sparkle and fascinating expression.

Oliver: Yes, I know a sure cure for wrinkles which can be cheaply made at home. I mix one ounce of alcohol with one-half pint of cold water and two tea-spoonfuls of glycerine. Stir and let stand for one day. To remove or prevent wrinkles, apply this vegetable cream-jelly thickly and massage thoroughly. At night leave the face covered with the cream. You will find nothing to equal almond jelly-cream to remove wrinkles and keep them away, and it contains no oil or fat which might promote hair growth. You will also notice by its use not only wrinkles disappearing, but the large pores of the entire face getting much smaller and the skin very soft and velvety.

Dora: For your pimples and tiredness I am giving the formula for the best blood cleanser I know. It is the best because it acts on the liver and kidneys and if, as you say, you are troubled with severe and constant headaches, it is an excellent attention. To prepare, put one ounce of kerdene into one-half pint alcohol (whisky should not be used), then add one-half cupful sugar and hot water to make a full quart. A tablespoonful before meals is the dose. This kerdene tonic gently expels poisonous waste from the body and tones up the internal organs so they can do their work well.

This was referred to a committee. The only other matter before congress today was a measure provided by the war department providing

TO CALL CONFERENCE

DEMOCRATS WILL ATTEMPT TO DISPOSE OF DIFFERENCES ON CURRENCY.

Conclusion Will Not Be Binding, But Hopes Held That It Will Bring About Agreement.

Washington, Nov. 25.—The currency situation took an unexpected turn in the senate today when democratic leaders decided to summon a party conference to dispose of points of difference and to attempt to unite party members behind a bill that would have the support of President Wilson.

The conference will begin at 11 o'clock tomorrow. It was said by democratic managers tonight that its conclusions would not be binding, but that it was expected the democrats would be able to agree upon the vital features of the bill and unite upon amendments to the pending bill, which can be accepted by the president.

The decision to bring the democrats together for a party conference was the result of talks between the president and party leaders in the senate. It was determined that before the debate proceeded further, members of the party should discuss the two bills behind closed doors and report as full an agreement as possible upon the features of legislation which split the senate committee.

Senator Owen announced early in the day that he would ask the senate to work until 6 o'clock each night and consider the currency measure at all times when special orders did not prevent.

The second day's debate upon the big reform measure was notable for the absence of show of ill feeling between the advocates of the different plans represented by the Owen and Hitchcock bills.

Senator Hitchcock held the senate for more than an hour with his speech in support of the bill agreed upon by himself and the five republicans of the senate committee.

Senator Shafroth, one of the democratic committee members who helped in the preparation of the Owen bill, followed with a comparative legislation of the problems confronted in trying to change the currency system of the country and an endorsement of the principles of the Owen bill.

Still another currency plan was proposed today by Senator Newlands in a resolution which he presented and discussed. His scheme would create state reserve associations in which the membership of state and national banks would be compulsory. These associations would hold at least one-third of the reserves of all of the banks in their respective states. In turn they would deposit one-third of these reserves in a federal association at Washington.

$500 FOR FAMILY OF FIVE.

Discuss Widowed Mothers' Pension at New York.

New York, Nov. 25.—The least a family of five can live on in this city is $500 a year and "that does not provide for luxuries," Cyrus L. Sulzberger, president of the National Conference of Jewish Charities, told members of the state commission on widowed mothers today, speaking in favor of state and municipal aid for widows with children.

Mrs. V. G. Sinkovitch, head of the Greenwich settlement house; Rabbi Stephen Wise, Morris D. Waldman of the United Hebrew Charities, and others favored governmental aid to supplement the relief work now being carried on by private organizations.

Dr. Henry Berg opposed the pensioning of widows from an economic viewpoint, declaring that a child of a widowed mother was better off in an institution even if the home environment was all that could be desired if that home needed financial assistance to maintain it.

Rabbi Wise and others took issue with Dr. Berg, declaring that the home should be maintained if possible.

Another meeting of the commission soon will be held.

READ "INNER STUDIES"

Many Women Attend Court Proceedings.

Chicago, Nov. 25.—Many fashionably dressed women were among the persons massed in the United States district court room today to hear the reading of "Inner Studies," the book of instructions of the Sun Worshipers, whose priest, Ottoman Zar-Adusth, is on trial for transmitting objectionable literature by express.

Judge Mack advised the women to leave the court room to avoid possible embarrassment. None left and attorneys for the defense said nothing could be adduced that would give offense.

Before the reading started three men, thought to be members of the Sun Worshipers, started burning incense outside the court room door. The fumes penetrated to the balcony and the incense burner was ordered removed.

Passages from "Inner Studies" as read to the jury are:

"Every morning and evening the body should be aired, exposing it to the sun."

"Woman is the temple of the living God, for she is the mother, the life-giver."

"Oriental women are the most beautiful in the world for the reason that they walk in the air in a nude condition for several hours each day."

KILLS DALLAS LAWYER

K. SHIELDS SHOT THROUGH ARM AND HEART BY FORT WORTH MAN.

Wife of Slayer Is Wounded—Woman Had Asked for Divorce.

Fort Worth, Tex., Nov. 25.—John C. Stokes shot and killed K. Shields, a Dallas lawyer representing Stokes' wife in divorce proceedings, and wounded Mrs. Stokes twice when the woman and her lawyer went to the Stokes home near Seventeenth and Elm streets this afternoon.

Stokes immediately called up attorneys, notified them to proceed to the sheriff's office and then surrendered as soon as he could report to the court house.

Shields was shot through the arm and the heart. Mrs. Stokes was wounded in the head and in the arm. The woman's wounds were accidental, Stokes claims.

Mrs. Stokes has been in Dallas for some time, and came to Fort Worth with her lawyer Tuesday to take an inventory, she told a policeman. She said she asked her lawyer to come with her for protection, as she was afraid of her husband.

Shields was dead when neighbors running toward the sound of the shots reached the house and Stokes had left on his way to the court house. Mrs. Stokes still was conscious and was taken to the medical college hospital. She later left for Dallas. Shields had a wife and two children in Dallas, it is said.

Mrs. Stokes had been staying at the home of her mother, 2141 Cabell street, in Dallas. Her petition for divorce alleges cruelty.

Stokes is proprietor of a saloon at Thirteenth and Calhoun streets. He was greatly excited when he surrendered to the sheriff and was unable to give any connected story of the killing, beyond saying he had "killed a lawyer and accidentally wounded my wife."

He was charged with murder in Justice of the Peace Mahan's court.

MAKE EMPLOYES PAY

EMPLOYERS BY SOLICITING SUBSCRIPTIONS AVOID MEETING LIABILITY PREMIUMS.

Investigation Started to Stop Practice. Intent of Law to Make Employers Pay.

Austin, Tex., Nov. 25.—Among the many other questions that have come before the Industrial Accident board for consideration, one of the most pertinent and clear evasions of the employers' liability act is that wherein employers in many instances have been soliciting subscriptions and funds from their employees for the payment of the premiums on policies wherein the employees have been protected.

According to the employers' liability act it was clearly the intention that the employees should be protected by the employers and not protect themselves by payment of the policies. In speaking of this matter, Ex-Governor Sayers, chairman of the Industrial accident board, said this morning:

"The chairman of the industrial accident board desires to call the attention of the public to the fact that, contrary to the spirit and purpose and a fair construction of the employers' liability act, certain employers have been exacting contributions from their employees for the payment of the premiums due the companies and associations in which such employees are insured. The industrial accident board will do all in its power to put an end to this wrongdoing."

The names of a number of companies have been secured by the board and such allegations are being investigated. Should investigations prove that the allegations are truths, action will be taken by the board.

WORKERS LAID OFF.

Many Work Part Time in Steel Plant at Gary, Ind.

Chicago, Nov. 25.—Authenticated reports that hundreds of employees have been laid off by the United States Steel corporation at Gary, Ind., reached here today and were followed promptly by denials that any general closing down was contemplated. One official of the big plant acknowledged, however, that in the effort to give all skilled employees work, their employment would be limited to four days a week.

It was said that only laborers have been laid off entirely, but another source of information reported that 2,500 steel workers have been let out in the Calumet district. Rumors which reached La Salle street brokers that a general shutting down of steel plants was about to take place were denied in New York by E. H. Gary, chairman of the corporation.

3000 TEACHERS WILL ATTEND

Meeting at Dallas Begins Thursday and Will Last Until Saturday.

Dallas, Nov. 25.—They will all be here Thursday.

From far and near they will come, these great factors of the work of the world, the teachers of the state. Not only will there be teachers in the public schools here, but teachers in the private schools, for this will be the occasion of the thirty-fifth annual convention of the State Teachers association.

More than three thousand delegates are expected to attend the meeting, which will begin Thursday evening, and adjourn Saturday. Headquarters and bureaus of information will be established at five of the leading hotels of the city, at the First Baptist church and at the Central High School building. But greatest joy of all, the school children and teachers of the city will have a holiday both Thursday and Friday, in honor of the meeting. This will make a schoolless period of four whole days, and will bring joy and delight to the youngsters, and a rather good rest to the teachers.

Didn't Seem So at First. "That's what I call a finished sermon," said a lady to her husband as they wended their way home from church. "Yes," was the reply, "but do you know, I thought it never would be."

REPORTS PRESAGE GREAT SUCCESS

Y. M. B. L. DIRECTORS RECEIVE ACCOUNTS OF BOOSTERS' STEWARDSHIP.

FLEMING'S TEAM LEADS ALL

Booster Special Leaves Katy Depot Promptly at 9 O'clock This Morning—Big Crowd Going.

Sam Knight, chairman of the arrangement committee, who has so ably conducted the arrangements for the Fort Worth excursion, made a banner report at the meeting of the directors of the Y. M. B. L. last night. He had to phone City Passenger Agent Morrow for additional equipment to take care of the large crowd that is going on this popular boosting excursion, he told the directors.

Sheriff Fleming, Harry White and Ed Elton proved to be the team to which was due the honor of selling the most tickets. They have sold over seventy. While J. M. Clements, Team No. 6, came second and T. A. Caulfield, third, in Mr. Knight's report of the many tickets sold.

President W. V. Crawford urged that all be at the Katy depot promptly at 9 a. m., so the train can leave on time. The schedule will be strictly adhered to.

New Year Reception. The directors of the organization decided to pull off a New Year's reception. The suggestion was made by President Crawford and the idea was unanimously adopted. The entire standing committee chairmen were appointed as a committee to plan the event, Davis Strubling being appointed as general chairman. It is the idea to have an open house reception at the league's quarters to commemorate the inauguration of the league in the city of Waco, a banquet was held on North Fourth street in the room now occupied by the Langley Clothing Manufacturing company, where the league was first organized.

Naman Makes Report. W. W. Naman, chairman of the convention committee, sent in his report, stating that in all probability the invitation extended to a dozen men delegates at the Metropole hotel will be the means of securing the 1915 state convention. An announcement was extended by the committee to the State Teachers' association that recently convened in Dallas, reporting favorably on securing the teachers to meet in Waco next year. This is in line with the policy the convention has taken so far during this administration.

Report on Riggins Banquet. Frank J. Trau, chairman of the tickets committee of the Riggins banquet, which will be held Tuesday, December 2, was granted the enthusiastic support of the directorate in making the banquet a success. Postal cards will be sent to all members of the league reminding them of this event. Trau said that the building of the new hotel was of more moment to the city than anything else and that it behooved every citizen of Waco to sit at the banquet of a man, a Waco man at last, who undertakes to build a hotel that was the effort and ambition of a lifetime. Chairman Trau reported that 190 tickets had been sold and that the general committee wanted and expected at least 300 sitting around the festive board.

The request of the Jewish Association for the quarters in which to hold a banquet was granted. The agriculture committee will secure a cotton exhibit to be sent to the north, where it will be used in the Indiana University and other schools as a theme for lectures to the students. This will give Waco quite a good bit of publicity.

The expense of drawing a bird's eye view of Waco was allowed. J. J. Hutchinson was under contemplation as the man to show the new buildings in Waco in a unique manner. A picture will be drawn by an artist of the new sky line in Waco, showing the new buildings and those under the course of construction. A plate of this view will be made and used for convention purposes and in other various manners necessary to let the world know that an unprecedented era of prosperity reigns in Waco.

Next Meeting Monday. The next directory meeting of the league was set up one day and will be held next Monday. This was set up on account of the Riggins banquet next Tuesday night. Secretary Hagerdorn submitted his regular weekly report and bills amounting to $290 were ordered paid.

Half Dozen Negro Boys Between Ages 15 and 21 Are Under Arrest on Suspicion.

Hillsboro, Tex., Nov. 25.—Half a dozen negro boys between the ages of 15 and 21 years are under arrest today on suspicion of having sandbagged E. T. Wilson, public weigher and coal dealer, at the plant of the latter on West Franklin street last night just as he was preparing to go home.

Mr. Wilson says that the negro first asked if he didn't want to buy some bottles and after accepting them, he was endeavoring to open the door of a shanty when he was struck from behind. He was unconscious almost an hour. He then summoned assistance.

The negro secured between $5 and $10 from Mr. Wilson's pockets.

WANT BARTHOLOMEW'S DOWNFALL.

Attempt to Discredit French Administration.

Paris, Nov. 25.—With the object of bringing about the downfall of Premier Barthou's cabinet the opposition parties in the French chamber of deputies demanded today that the new loan of $250,000,000 to cover the budget deficit should be doubled after the inheritance tax project.

Premier Barthou declined to accept this procedure and made the question one of a vote of confidence in the cabinet, but at the last moment the opposition parties withdrew their objection to the debate on the loan having priority and a vote was not necessary.

The government's success in today's ordeal strengthened the opinion in political circles that the ministry will weather the storm—an opinion which was reflected on the bourse this afternoon by the upward tendency of rates.

ALL IS READY FOR BIG CLASH

Coach Harper and His Twenty-two Notre Dame Huskies at Austin.

Austin, Nov. 25.—Coach Jesse W. Harper and his twenty-two Notre Dame huskies have arrived in Austin and are in fine condition for their game with the Texas Longhorns on Thursday.

The men who constitute the Notre Dame squad on the Texas trip are Captain Rockney, Gushurst, Jones, King, Keefe, Fitzgerald, Dorris, Dugan, Kelleher, Birdman, Eichenlaub, Pliska, Finnegan, Cook, Herker, Elwood, Newman, Larkin, Volkner, Lathrop and Feeney. None of the men is suffering from the result of the game Saturday with Christian Brothers college at St. Louis, whom they defeated by a 20 to 7 score. The Notre Dame coaches have taken every precaution to safeguard the condition of the men. A barrel of Notre Dame drinking water was included in their baggage. Coach Harper expressed his confidence in a victory.

Despite the wet grounds, both the Texas and Notre Dame squads have had hard workouts the last two days. Notre Dame is staying at St. Edwards college. The Longhorns are showing a surprising amount of confidence as to their possibilities and it is a safe prediction that they will fight as a Texas team has never fought before.

Business Disrupted.

The coming football contest between the University of Texas and the Notre Dame eleven for vanquishers of West Point, practically has disrupted business in the state capital. The principal topic of conversation has been the relative strength of the two eleven and the possibilities of the Longhorns achieving a victory.

In every department the conversation eventually shifts to the game. In the case of the governor's office, a group of fans had gathered this morning discussing the contest and playing the game prematurely.

There is a general feeling of the hunch nature that the Longhorns will win, and numerous small bets have been made. It is doubtful if any event in Austin has ever created the excitement so far in advance as the Thanksgiving game.

All Tickets Sold.

West Point, Nov. 25.—It was announced today that every ticket of the Army's allotment for the Navy game to be played in New York Saturday is gone. Coach Dan I. Sullivan, who is the Army's representative for football, said there was yet hope for those former Army players who won their "A" in football who wish to see the game and that all who applied to him at the Hotel Astor in New York or before November 28 would be provided with sideline privileges.

The cardlets had their last hard scrumming today. Coach Daly gave the men ten minutes of scrumming and then sent all hands through a lively signal drill. Fielding M. York, the Michigan coach, helped in the coaching and the army men were drilled in some new formations he has devised that are to prove effective against the Navy team.

The scrubs tried out some navy plays in the scrimmage work, but the variety, however, had little trouble in combating them.

Junior Indoor Track Meet.

New York, Nov. 25.—The indoor track and field championships, which will be held at the Thirtieth regiment armory, Brooklyn, Saturday night, January 2, were announced today by the championship committee of the A. As the championship meeting comes at the end of the holiday vacation, it is expected Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Cornell, Pennsylvania, Columbia, Wesleyan and several other of the important colleges will be represented.

Gasport, Ind., Nov. 25.—The keel of the Shamrock IV, which is to try to capture the Americas cup next year, is to be laid here tomorrow. Sir Thomas Lipton, with a few friends, will attend the ceremony.

Good progress has been made in the preparation of the material for the challenger and after the casting of her keel the advance in construction will be rapid.

Beachy, Loops Loop.

San Diego, Cal., Nov. 25.—Lincoln Beachy, the aviator, looped the loop twice in the air above North Island late today. Starting at a height of 2500 feet, Beachy dropped straight downward into the first loop and immediately turned over again into the second, landing afterwards. At no time seemingly was there any loss of control. Immediately after landing the aviator said he would repeat the performance Thursday.

Tinker Will Not Manage.

Cincinnati, Nov. 25.—It was officially announced by the board of directors of the Cincinnati baseball club late today that Joe Tinker, manager of the team last season, would not manage it during the season of 1914. Inability to come to terms with Tinker is given as the reason for reaching this conclusion.

Mission Runs or Walks.

Up to Its Friends to Set the Pace, Says Bloodworth.

Rev. J. J. Greer preached a timely sermon at the City Mission, 608 1/2 Austin avenue, last night to an interested congregation.

Superintendent J. T. Bloodworth, discussing the work of the mission after the sermon said:

"If we expect to build the mission to its highest point, we must stand by it day and night with our prayers and presence. Simply talking about running it does not run it. It takes real consecration to the work to accomplish the work. Cotton Palace season is now over, so come on to the mission. No superintendent can do much in city mission work without the co-operation of the people."

Rev. Ludwick preaches tonight and he is certainly a power in the pulpit. Messrs. Harmon, Hunter and Blakely will conduct the services Friday night. These strong consecrated men will represent the Fifth Street Methodist church in the mission and on Saturday night Mr. Buckner and others, with some good gospel singers will conduct the service. So, you see, there is something in store for you.

"The city mission is running, or walking, and needs a few to help it run. Some folks in Waco do not at this late hour know the mission is running. They should come and see."

MEXICAN EXODUS.

Man Arrested for Stealing Shoes at Hillsboro.

Hillsboro, Tex., Nov. 25.—While A. H. Boegeman, a boot and shoe manufacturer, whose plant is on South Waco street, was engaged in talking to two Mexicans last night, a third took a pair of boots, valued at $8, and went out the front way.

The man was later arrested by Deputy Sheriff Long, giving the name of R. Lopez. The boots were found in the garret of the house he occupied in Freetown. A general exodus from the city of the twelve or fifteen other Mexicans who occupied the house by way of the interurban for Dallas occurred.

YOUR PIGS MUST STAY HOME.

Jury Decides Neighbors May Shoot Them in His Corn Field.

Pigs have no right in a neighbor's cornfield, according to the decision of a jury in Judge H. M. Richey's court yesterday, furthermore the owner of the cornfield has not only a right to shoot the pigs, but to recover damages for his uprooted crop.

This decision was made in the case of R. H. Owens vs. Pink Maynard, when the jury refused the damages asked by the owner of the slain hogs, and granted the owner of the invaded field damages in the sum of $13. The hog-killing affair which was thus settled occurred last year a few miles outside of Waco.

4 KILLED WHEN AUTOS CRASH

Assemblyman Denney of New York Is Victim, Another Leonard Cohen.

New York, Nov. 25.—Four persons, two men and two women, were killed and several persons were injured late tonight in a head-on collision of automobiles in Pelham Park highway in the upper part of this city.

One of the men killed has been identified as Leonard Cohen, proprietor of a dressmaking establishment on Third-third street, and examination of papers found in the pocket of the coat worn by the other man brought the belief that he was Assemblyman Thomas F. Denney, who represented the Nineteenth district. A letter addressed to Assemblyman Denney from Governor Glynn was found in the dead man's pocket.

One of the women wore numerous jewels and as her rings bore the initials "F. A. D." Those engaged in the collision of the car to escape with his life.

The four persons who were killed were in a car operated by Richard Rogers, a negro chauffeur, who was the only occupant of the car to escape with his life.

The chauffeur of the other machine, Jerry Mahoney, of Manhattan, was arrested. In his car was Bert Irich, a garage owner, who received a possible fracture of the skull and severe lacerations. The identity of the other passengers was still a matter of investigation at a late hour.

I'M NOT AFRAID OF ANY BILL OF FARE

If You Use a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet After Each Meal You Can Eat What You Like.

It does not make any difference what you eat if you will provide your system with the wherewithal to digest it. No bill of fare should appall or disgust a man who wants to eat. There is a simple sure way and that is by carrying a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet in your pocket or purse to be eaten after each meal.

"I Love to Get My Hand on a Bill of Fare"

This tablet will go into your stomach like food. It will mix with your digestive juices, strengthen them to their correct proportions. Then it will follow the food into the intestine, where it will again aid in the work of digestion.

Even though you eat too much at any meal, a little tablet taken at the close of your dinner will cause that dinner to be thoroughly digested without harmful effect.

Acute indigestion has no fears for a man who will occasionally use a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet.

We are a nation of "high livers." We travel exceedingly fast in all we do and eating rich food at all hours has made indigestion and stomach trouble our national disease.

A Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet will make you free from this danger and the best of it all is that you may test yourself at any time and prove this statement true.

GAS EXPLOSION AT PITTSBURG

SCORE OF PERSONS INJURED AND DAMAGE AMOUNTS TO MILLION.

MANY DWELLINGS WRECKED

Water Mains Broken and Houses Are Undermined—Danger of Further Explosions.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 25.—A score or more persons were injured, buildings within a radius of three miles were damaged, two dwelling houses collapsed and thousands of windows were shattered by the explosion of gas in a nine-foot sewer in the Lawrenceville district of Pittsburgh late today.

Tonight thousands of gallons of gasoline from tanks overturned in the yards of the Petroleum Products company at Liberty avenue and Thirty-third street are pouring through the wrecked sewers and in fear of a second explosion the city authorities ordered all lights except electric extinguished.

In various parts of the district water mains were broken, flooding the streets and undermining scores of buildings. A number of families were ordered to vacate their homes, which threaten to collapse.

The property loss is estimated at almost $1,000,000. None of the injured is fatally hurt.

Work at a manhole in the Thirty-eighth street tunnel into the air and one of them, Alexander Campbell, was buried in the hole the explosion tore in the hillside. The others injured were cut by falling glass from the broken windows or killed by flying stones from the fissures in the streets.

At the Cold Road Steel company's plant a furnace filled with tin metal was upset and the mill caught fire, a section of the Baltimore and Ohio railway track was lifted from its bed and a sewer line weighing eighty pounds was blown through a fire engine house.

Shortly after the explosion, Director of Public Work W. Y. English, Director of Public Health John S. Horton and the entire councilman body visited the scene. That sewer gas had caused the accident was not doubted, but at which point and how it was ignited could not be ascertained.

At a special meeting of the council tonight the various department heads were authorized to employ as many men as needed to clear away the debris.

W. K. BIXBY QUILTS FRISCO

B. F. Youkum Severs Connection With Board of Directors of Union Trust Co.

St. Louis, Nov. 25.—The resignation of W. K. Bixby from the board of directors of the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad, and the severance of connections between B. F. Youkum, chairman of the board of directors of the Frisco, and the board of directors of the St. Louis Union Trust company, became known here today.

Youkum did not formally resign but ordered a local broker to sell his ninety shares of St. Louis Union Trust company stock. The sale automatically removed him from the directorate as a director must own at least ten shares of stock. Mrs. Youkum still owns 100 shares of the stock.

The St. Louis Union Trust company acted as local bankers for the Frisco system. Mr. Youkum's action is believed to have had some connection with the recent investigation into the Frisco receivership conducted by the interstate commerce commission in St. Louis as the sale of his stock was made the day the hearing closed.

Mr. Bixby, who had resigned from the Frisco board of directors, said: "I already am connected with the Wabash railroad as a receiver and felt that I had better not retain my place on the Frisco board simply because I could not give sufficient time to the duties of both offices."

"The enjoining papers were served, but I think it probable that I will withdraw the case. I was satisfied with the day's proceedings at the meeting of the Texas company and think matters can be arranged so that they will be satisfactory to me."

MURDER CHARGE FILED.

Dunken Must Answer for the Killing of Jim Lynch.

A complaint of murder was filed against W. L. Dunken yesterday in Judge H. M. Richey's court as a result of the killing of Jim Lynch at the Frisco railroad station Monday night. Lynch was struck on the head with a coupling pin, and died three hours later. Dunken, who is station agent at Leroy, was arrested immediately after the killing and placed in the county jail.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We Eat Too Much Meat Which Clogs Kidneys, Then the Back Hurts.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal action, and also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive, makes a delicious effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who are in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

CHANGE OFFICERS OF TEXAS CO.

CULLINAN RETIRES IN FAVOR OF E. C. LUFKIN AS PRESIDENT.

TO BE NO CHANGE OF POLICY

J. S. Sharp of Dallas May Withdraw Temporary Restraining Order Against Securities Co.

Houston, Nov. 25.—The Texas company, the $50,000,000 oil company founded by John W. Gates, underwent a full change in management today when the stockholders favoring executive committee control dominated the annual meeting and elected E. C. Lufkin president, in succession to J. S. Cullinan.

Shortly after the stockholders met in executive session, President Cullinan, who had always been the right hand man of John W. Gates and Charles G. Gates, briefly announced that he was aware of the fact that the opponents of his policies had control of two-thirds of the voting strength and that he would retire.

The following directory and officers was then chosen: E. C. Lufkin, New York, president; Arnold Schlacht, T. J. Donohue, R. C. Holmes, vice presidents; G. L. Noble, W. A. Thompson, L. H. Lappam, J. H. Lappam, A. B. Hepburn, J. J. Mitchell, A. L. Beatty, C. P. Dodge and J. N. Hill.

James L. Autrey, who has long been general counsel for the company, also retired and L. Beatty will be his successor.

The statement is made that the company will continue to be operated from Houston, under the Texas laws, and that the change in officers does not signify any radical departure from previous methods.

E. C. Lufkin, the new president, it is said, has been identified with the Guggenheims for many years and report has it, control now vests in that quarter but nothing authoritative along that line is given out.

Other business incidental to the change will be taken up at an adjourned meeting December 2.

Of the new directorate, Messrs. Lufkin, Schlacht, Holmes, Thompson, the two Lappams, Hepburn and Beatty are of New York.

Mitchell and Hill, Chicago. Donohue, Noble and Dodge, Houston.

Hill is a son of James J. Hill, the railway magnate.

Treasurer, W. A. Green, Houston, re-elected.

Secretary, C. P. Dodge, Houston, re-elected.

Assistant secretary and assistant treasurer, A. C. Mikellita, New York, re-elected.

Assistant secretaries, S. J. Paine, F. S. Pannell, W. W. Bruce and V. R. Currie, all of Houston, re-elected.

Assistant treasurer, Ernest Carroll, Guy Carroll and D. B. Tobey, all of New York, re-elected.

Executive committee: E. C. Lufkin, New York, succeeding J. S. Cullinan, Houston, and J. J. Mitchell, Chicago; L. H. Lappam, New York, A. B. Hepburn, New York, A. L. Beatty, New York, and J. N. Hill, New York, re-elected.

May Withdraw Order.

Houston, Nov. 25.—J. S. Sharp of Dallas stated at a local hotel tonight that probably the temporary restraining order obtained in Dallas yesterday against the Industrial Securities company, the Texas company and the Producers Oil company, enjoining the Industrial Securities company from voting stock of the Producers Oil company, granted on a petition charging violation of Texas anti-trust laws, would be withdrawn.

"It looks at present as though the meeting of the Producers Oil company will not be held Wednesday," said Mr. Sharp. "As there is not enough stock represented in Houston to make the meeting legal. Before a meeting can be held, it is necessary to have two-thirds of the stock represented."

"The enjoining papers were served, but I think it probable that I will withdraw the case. I was satisfied with the day's proceedings at the meeting of the Texas company and think matters can be arranged so that they will be satisfactory to me."

Interest in Meeting.

Dallas, Nov. 25.—Interest in today's meeting of the Texas company at Houston was heightened by last night's federal injunction here against the Texas company and two other corporations, granted on a petition charging violation of Texas anti-trust laws. This alleged violation was in the control of two Texas oil concerns through the medium of a third corporation, organized in the east purely for holding purposes. Where-did-in operation agreements in Texas also were charged.

The injunction restrained the Industrial Securities company of Maine, which was alleged to be the holding "dummy" from voting the majority stock of the Texas company, and the Producers Oil company, which controls, in the annual meeting of the Producers Oil company here tomorrow. The Producers supplies crude oil to the Texas company, which is a refining and marketing organization. Last night's injunction also issued against the Texas company, although it did not charge that the Texas company owned any of the Producers stock directly. The petition declared, however, that the Producers and the Texas company had exchanged their stocks illegally through the Maine company.

Also that the Industrial Securities company does not actually have any offices in Maine, but that its principal offices are at 17 Battery Place, New York city.

THEFT OF SECURITIES

JAMES E. FOYE ARRESTED
CHARGED WITH THEFT OF OVER $200,000.

Clerk of Trust Company at $75 a Month Makes Haul and Is Caught at Philadelphia.

New York, Nov. 25.—Theft of more than $200,000 worth of Union Pacific Railway company and General Electric company securities from the Farmers' Loan and Trust company of this city, became known tonight when James E. Foye, 35 years old, a former $75 a month clerk of the trust company, was arrested as he stepped from a train in Philadelphia.

Foye was charged with being a fugitive from justice. At a police station where Foye was searched, the police alleged that a certified check for $97,000 and more than $100 in cash were found in his clothes. There also were several trans-Atlantic steamship circulars which led the police to believe Foye had planned sail for Europe. The check, the police say, Foye received today from the firm of Charles T. Brown, bond brokers of Philadelphia, but $100,000 in cash which the police also charge that he received from the sale of bonds during the past week, could not be found.

The discovery of the loss of stocks and bonds, the police allege, was made soon after Foye left the trust company's employ about three months ago. Coincident with the announcement of the theft and Foye's arrest it became known that New York and Philadelphia bankers affected by the loss held a meeting here to discuss the best methods to follow in dealing with the case.

While the exact amount of the stolen securities could not be learned, it was known to exceed $200,000.

The theft was kept secret while private detectives watched the stock markets in several cities for sales of the missing securities. Banks also were asked to watch for the bonds and stocks, and when a report of the Brown firm today deposited them in a Philadelphia bank, detectives received their first clue and search for Foye began.

Little could be learned tonight concerning the methods by which Foye is alleged to have obtained his securities. According to the police he was a brother of Policeman Foye, who was tried by the police commission for failing to take prompt action at the time of the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler. The police also said Foye at one time was employed by the late John W. Gates and by the late Charles G. Gates.

It was announced late tonight that detectives had recovered from various vaults and strong boxes $208,000, which, they assert, is part of the total of approximately $275,000 represented by Foye's stock dealings.

Process servers attempted to serve papers on Foye in the police station where he is confined, but the police refused to permit them to see the prisoner. They represented a firm of lawyers, they said, and it is understood, sought to recover possession of the certified check for $97,000, presumably for the Philadelphia bond brokers.

PISTOL FIGHT IN STREETS

Bullets Fly and Neighbors, Panic Stricken, Call for Police—One Man Arrested.

Add one flat fight between Hollie Roberts and G. W. Sullivan, both salesmen about 35 years old, and another battle between Sullivan and another salesman named Moore, which took place shortly after midnight last night in the neighborhood of Roberts' home at 728 Taylor street, to three pistol shots fired in the street, multiply it by more pistol shots, several calls for the police over the telephone and some yellows of murder; then divide it by three policemen and add a story of a runaway marriage and throw in Roy German, the police chauffeur, who hauled away Sullivan and the three policemen in the hoodlum and the sum total is what Assistant Chief of Police Bob Buchanan spent several hours trying to work out with the balance on the right side as he pondered over it during the small hours of this morning.

Neighborhood Aroused. The telephone call came in to the station last night a few minutes after the hour when churchyards are supposed to yawn and graves to give up their dead. The assistant chief detailed Policemen Carls and Harbour to go to 728 Taylor street. There the officers found Sullivan. He was bleeding from a deep gash in the left temple and his left eye was blacked.

The police gathered in Sullivan, who claimed to be the victim of an assault and hold-up, and brought him to the station, confessing a pistol, which, he said, he had used to defend himself. Sullivan repeated several times a story to the effect that he had been out to pay a social visit when he went out in the street again and beaten up by Roberts and Moore.

He Got His Gun. He said he had then run to his home, which is immediately across the street from the home of Roberts, and when his wife saw his condition she handed him a revolver with which to defend himself. He went out in the street again and meeting Moore and Roberts he opened fire. But he insisted that he thought he heard one of the men firing at him before he began pumping lead in their direction. It was at this stage of the proceedings that residents of the neighborhood began yelling for the police by telephone. None of the bullets fired took effect.

Roberts Will Surrender. Sullivan's story was partly corroborated after his arrest by several friends who came to the station to secure his release on bond. They said they had seen him get the pistol from his wife and that he was beaten up and bleeding profusely when he obtained the weapon. Before Sullivan was released on bond he declared he was ignorant of the cause of the fighting and pistol play. He said Roberts and himself had been warm friends until one of the Roberts boys ran away with his daughter, and married her.

Later in the night Policeman James got into communication by phone with Roberts, who corroborated Sullivan's story to the extent that there had been a fight and that pistols were in action, but he insisted that Sullivan was not the cause of the fight and that he was not the one who had been beaten up and bleeding profusely when he obtained the weapon. He said he had not surrendered at an early hour this morning, but the police were confident he would appear.

FOURTEEN THOUSAND ARE OUT

Employees of Largest Electrical Manufacturing Plant of Kind in World on Strike.

Schenectady, N. Y., Nov. 25.—With more than 14,000 employees of the General Electric company voluntarily idle, this city tonight faces an industrial crisis. However, aside from numerous meetings of workmen and orderly crowds in the streets and about the bulletin boards in front of the various labor union halls, there is no excitement resulting from today's walkout of nearly all the force of the largest manufacturing plant of its kind in the world.

Throughout the city there was an atmosphere of preparation. In a dozen or more labor headquarters meetings were held and preparations begun for what many fear will be a lengthy struggle. In a central hall heads of the various unions met and discussed ways and means of carrying on a strike, should one be called. Meanwhile the leaders were emphatic in their statements that there is no strike as yet. They explained today's walkout as a "demonstration of strength to show that the General Electric company cannot crush unionism."

A BIG NIGHT AT BAYLOR TONIGHT

MASS MEETING TO WHOOP UP ENTHUSIASM FOR TOMORROW'S GAME.

FROLIC AND REHEARSE YELLS

Hold Jubilee Lest Foes of the Morrow Hang Grape on Doorbell of Fondlest Anticipations.

In anticipation of Thursday's Thanksgiving game between Baylor and Southwestern universities on Carroll field, what promises to be the biggest mass meeting ever held in Waco for a similar purpose will be staged in Carroll chapel at 7:45 o'clock tonight.

Friends of Baylor in the city are cordially invited to go out and join the Baylor faculty and students in getting ready for the big fray, for there will be enough of entertainment tonight to make attendance well worth while.

Oratory, Music, Fun, Yells.
In addition to features by leading representatives of the faculty and student body there will be selections by the band and a "Barber Shop" quartet. Another innovation on tonight's program will be the presentation of a sketch entitled "The Baptist in His Den."

Tonight's rally is more than a yell practice. While songs and yells will be rehearsed, there will be more pretentious features introduced than have ever been seen at a similar college function in the city.

Will Hear Returns.
Arrangements have been made by the football management to have the returns from all the other three huge games in Texas that day flashed out to Baylor at the end of each quarter and these returns will be announced by an official announcer and also posted on a large bulletin board specially constructed for this occasion. These games include the Texas-Notre Dame contest at Austin, the Agricultural and Mechanical-Louisiana State game at Houston, and the Austin College-Polytechnic contest at Fort Worth.

Rooters Are Rallying.
Baylor's rooting contingent will be supplemented by a large delegation of alumni and ex-students who will come down on a special car from Dallas for the game. A reception committee from the faculty, student body and local alumni will meet the Dallasites at the station and escort them to Burien hall, where luncheon will be served them under the direction of Mrs. T. H. Claypool, matron of the girls' dormitories. Every effort will be made to make the day a pleasant one for the visitors, and a victory over the Methodists is what the local team expects to contribute to the pleasure of their Dallas brethren.

They're Coming Strong.
Southwestern is coming strong for the game, having chartered a special train that will arrive here about noon. Several hundred of the students will accompany the eleven and the grand stand on the east side of the field will be set apart for the visitors.

The goal posts will be decorated for the occasion with the colors of the respective colleges and every evidence of the holiday spirit will be seen on Carroll field. The Baylor band will play lively airs, there will be frequent interchanges of rifle yells and songs across the field and such a display of wholesome college spirit as has not been witnessed there in many months. The game will be called promptly at 3 o'clock.

TO CELEBRATE THANKSGIVING
Speakers Will Discuss Live Subject at Central Presbyterian Church Tonight—Attractive Program.

An unusually interesting Thanksgiving service will be held at the Central Presbyterian church tonight, beginning at 8 o'clock. For many reasons it has seemed to Pastor E. E. Ingram practically impossible to get anything like a representative audience out of the hour on Thursday, so he has adopted the plan of holding the service on Wednesday night before Thanksgiving. This will enable everybody to attend such a service and without the interruption of other plans for Thursday.

The program for the evening is a most interesting one. The subjects to be discussed are of vital interest, and each will be considered by an expert in his respective field.

General Subject for Discussion.
The general subject for discussion will be "The Forces That Have Made America Great." These will be discussed by Prof. R. L. Abbott, county school superintendent, and "Freedom of the Press," by James Hays Quarles, who has achieved such splendid success with the Waco Morning News. Mr. Hirschberg is well qualified to discuss the subject assigned him.

The music will be highly interesting, the special numbers consisting of a solo by Mrs. J. G. Wren, a solo by Miss Stella Lacy, and a duet by Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Miller.

TO PUT ON A SQUEEZE COAT.
It Will Deaden Rumble of Traffic Around Masonic Temple.
To deaden the noise of traffic on the brick pavement surrounding the Masonic Temple at Sixth and Franklin street a squeeze coat will be placed on the pavement for a distance of two blocks.

The pavement a block on Sixth from Franklin north and a block on Franklin nearest the temple will be treated. The commission took action yesterday morning after E. F. Drake had appeared and made the request. He stated that the Masonic body was now convening here for a session and the noise was a nuisance. The matter had been up before and the board readily agreed to placing the coating on the street. Commissioner Foster will place men to work at once. In the event the experiment proves a success it is probable all brick-paved streets in the city may be similarly treated.

PUTS PREMIUM ON SERVICES TO CITY

EXTRA PAY IS VOTED BY CITY COMMISSION TO JUDGE SURRETT.

COLLINS ALONE VOTES "NO"

Mayor Mackey Inclines to Position Taken by Commissioner Collins. May Veto Measure.

With Commissioner John Collins voting "no" and with Mayor James H. Mackey making the statement that he might veto the bill, the city commission yesterday morning voted, 3 to 1, to pay Judge Marshall Surratt an additional $250 for services he rendered as legal advisor to the charter revision committee.

Commissioners Caulfield, who brought in the recommendation, and Littlefield and Foster voted to increase the $500 already paid the attorney by $250 additional. A recommendation from the same commissioner that the board pay J. G. Wren $75 for services as secretary to the charter committee was held up on request of Commissioner Littlefield, who said the legal question involved should be thrashed out before action was taken.

Question of Law Involved.
This question is whether Mr. Wren, who is city recorder, can legally be paid money by the city for other services. City Attorney John Maxwell was present at the meeting, but was not asked to rule on the question at that time. The request will be made later. The charter committee had recommended that Judge Surratt be paid $500 in addition to $500 already paid him and that Mr. Wren be paid $150 additional. The matter was referred to Mr. Caulfield as finance commissioner.

Caulfield's Position.
In making his recommendation, Mr. Caulfield said: "When the attorney was first employed his fee was fixed at $250 by an understanding of the commission. Later we made an agreement to pay him $250 more or $500, on the statement that he was to have more work to do than expected. Judge Surratt told me the work was worth $1,000 at that time. Now the members of the committee say that he had the secretary work to do also for some time and has earned $1,000, so they recommended he be paid $500 more. Also the committee wants to pay Mr. Wren $150. I have cut these figures in two and recommend that Surratt be paid $250, making a total of $750 in all, and that Wren be paid $75."

Littlefield's View of It.
Commissioner Littlefield took up the question and said he understood the committee was to form the ideas in legal form; however, that he had done more than that. He said the commission had no right to pay him more if he made a miscalculation of the amount of work to be done. The only thing that would justify his receiving more money might be that the committee imposed on him an additional amount of work than was contracted for, if they did he was entitled to more money. Mr. Littlefield seconded Mr. Caulfield's motion as to Judge Surratt's pay, but not as to Wren's. Mr. Caulfield then withdrew that part of his recommendation as regards Wren's compensation.

Collins Stands Pat.
Mr. Collins believed Surratt had been paid according to his contract. "I am not speaking derogatory to Judge Surratt," he said, "but he had a contract for $500. He has earned his contract and been paid. He is an able lawyer, but I don't feel like voting to pay him in excess of his contract." Mr. Collins also wanted to know who authorized the attorney to do extra work. He said the city was not responsible for any obstacles that might have caused the work to be done; that it was a dangerous precedent to pay above contract, and that, while he regretted to oppose the interests of Judge Surratt, he would vote against the question.

Mayor Is Conservative.
Mayor Mackey took much the same position. He said he was appointed by the commission to employ an attorney and stenographer for the charter committee, but that body did not wait for him to act, they employing Judge Surratt. He said the choice pleased him and he did not object. He said the charter committee recommended that the city pay the attorney $250; that later this figure was raised to $500, and this the commission thought too high, as it was making the charter cost too much, but they agreed to it. He said it was a question of contract and if Judge Surratt had done more work than his contract called for, that was a matter that he felt did not

Commissioner Foster said Judge Surratt did extra work, according to the best information he could obtain, and deserved the extra pay.

After the vote Mayor Mackey said: "I want to consider that matter and may veto the bill."

The question of Wren's additional compensation may come up later.

DEATH DEALER IN MAIL

POSTMASTER HOFFMANN FINDS LOADED RIFLE IN THE PARCEL POST.

Filmy Paper Wrapping Breaks, Exposing an Offense Against the Postal Law.

The presence of a deadly firearm, the transmission of which through the United States mails is prohibited by law, was discovered in the parcel post by Postmaster Hoffmann yesterday. The arm is a 32-calibre rifle, which has been confiscated by the postmaster, who has forwarded an official report to Washington on the case.

The Gun Was Loaded.
The offense against the postal law in this case is made more grave by the fact that the rifle was loaded. The sender of the package had loosened the breech of the gun, packed the barrel alongside the stock and wrapped the parts tightly in thin sheets of brown paper. The filmy wrapping led to the discovery, for the paper broke and the breech was uncovered, disclosing the deadly cartridge.

Rife for Tragedy.
Postmaster Hoffmann was more surprised at the obvious animosity of the sender of the deadly weapon than indignation over the apparent attempt to "put one over" on him, for the cap of the cartridge, neatly fitted into the barrel, was in just the position to be discharged if the package happened to drop to the floor and strike on that end. As that end chanced to be the heavier end and the probability of a job for the surgeons coming out of that particular piece of parcel post mail was luminous.

Postmaster Hoffmann has submitted a full report of the case to the proper official of the department and it is likely that there will be an echo.
